BIG BUSINESS TO COOPERATE WITH HOOVER

Pledges Aid in Program of Economic Progress

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—More than a score of the outstanding representatives of business and industry after a two hour conference with President Hoover today on business conditions pledged their cooperation in the movement which the Chief Executive has begun to carry forward economic progress.

The conference was held in the Cabinet room in the Executive Office and in addition to the representatives of business a number of government officials were present, including Secretaries Mellon and Lamont; Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce; Roy A. Young, governor of the Federal Reserve Board; and Alexander Legge, chairman of the Farm Board.

A. W. Shaw of Chicago, a leading member of the business cycle committee, which was set up by the Department of Commerce several years ago to make a survey of business conditions, and Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., met with the government officials.

The conference was the largest which the President has yet held and it lasted more than twice as long as the previous ones.

Henry Ford was among the first of the 22 business men invited to reach the White House. Others who came were Owen D. Young, Chairman of the Board of the General Electric Co.; E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation; and many other representatives of the steel industry; Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors; and Pierre DuPont, chairman of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co.

FORD GIVES VIEWS
Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Henry Ford said today after leaving a conference of business men called by the President that the first thing to do was "to correct the impression that the present condition of affairs is due to the stock market."

"Collapse of speculation may have been the occasion of a business hesitation," Mr. Ford continued, "but it certainly was not the cause."

"The stock market does not make prosperity but prosperity is absolutely essential to such an inflation of values as we have seen during the past year. When an inflated stock market breaks, it does not necessarily carry general business down with it, but when general business declines it invariably deflates the artificial values of the stock market."

"That is what happened. It was only the temporary diversion of business men's attention that prevented them from seeing what was happening. It is now clear to all that the real explanation of the present situation is not to be found in recent stock market history but in recent business history."

If the public understands, the manufacturer said, that the stock market cannot permanently affect us for either good or bad, "the way is clear to constructive views."

He added that business showed some decline even while speculative values were at their height.

"The reasons are plain," he said. "First, there was a serious withdrawal of brains from business. Men who otherwise have been working out better designs for commodities and better methods of manufacture and planning to put more value into their products were drawn off from the work they were best fitted to do by the promise of quick profits in speculation. This was more serious for business than most people are likely to realize. I have often said that we need the experience and judgment of men in middle age or older, and when this is withdrawn, business feels it."

SOME BIG PROMISES

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Promises of nearly $5,000,000,000 in business expenditure already have come forward from all parts of the country in response to President Hoover's appeal for forward industrial activity in the next year.

Some of the larger programs provided: $1,000,000,000 to railroads; $1,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 for general construction; $500,000,000 for federal buildings; $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 for government ocean mail contracts; $10,000,000 of a $100,000,000 electric power program by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

PATIENT IN MAJOR OPERATION GOT OUT OF BED TO SOUND FIRE ALARM

Portland, Ore., Nov. 21.—(UP)—A patient in the Portland Sanitarium, who underwent a major operation yesterday, arose from his bed early today, walked to the room telephone and calmly notified the switchboard operator that the hospital was afire.

Quick action on the part of nurses and officials of the institution prevented a panic among the 90 patients. The fire, which was in the boiler room in a separate building, was extinguished by the fire department.

W. A. Grossbacher, the patient who discovered the blaze, was restless from effects of his operation, and unable to sleep.

CONGRESS VOTES ITSELF A WEEKS VACATION TODAY

House Follows Example Of Senate For Short Recess

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The House today agreed to the Senate's plan to adjourn the extra session of Congress sine die Friday.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Still plugging away at the tariff bill, the Senate today looked expectantly forward to tomorrow night's adjournment and a week of rest before entering upon the long grid of the regular session.

Although defeated in their efforts to extend the special session and keep the Senate at work on the tariff measure, the "Young Republicans" faction was still defiant and served notice that as soon as possible in the regular session the bill would be called up and pressed to final disposition.

The resumption of debate today, which embraced the important work schedules, saw the senate two-thirds of the way through the many rates incorporated in the bill. Remaining to be acted upon were, in addition to wool, the highly controversial sugar paragraphs, those dealing with silk, rayon and other synthetic textiles, paper, books, sundries and the free list.

At the outset of the regular session, convening on December 2, by agreement, the Senate will take up the long standing controversy over the right of William S. Vare to be seated as Senator from Pennsylvania. It is estimated that three days will be required for the disposition of this case, after which a return to the tariff will be in order and it is expected that a final vote on the revenue can be reached before the customary Christmas recess.

GOOD'S FUNERAL TRAIN DID NOT PASS THRU CITY

Was Routed Over Cut-off From Nachusa To Nelson

The funeral special of the late Secretary of War James W. Good did not pass through Dixon on its way from Chicago to Cedar Rapids today, but passed through Sterling at 12:25 this noon. The train was routed over the North Western cut-off from Nachusa to Nelson and while a few waited at the passenger station expecting to view the special, none realized their hope. The train was making no great speed on its final lap, the time from Chicago to Sterling occupying about three and one-half hours.

STATE OUTLINES ITS CASE AGAINST GEORGE McMANUS

Defendant Is Charged With Murder Of Arnold Rothstein

By M. D. TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Criminal Court, New York, Nov. 21.—(UP)—George N. Rothstein, Assistant District Attorney, today outlined to the jury the case by which the state will attempt to prove George A. McManus murdered Arnold Rothstein, gambler.

"The first proof we will offer will be the proof of death as required by law," he said.

"The next proof will have to do with a card game in which Arnold Rothstein lost $291,000 to a man known as Nigger Nate."

The defendant lost $50,000, practically all in cash, to Rothstein. Brothers said he would show that McManus registered as George A. Richards at the Park Central Hotel where Rothstein was shot, and was assigned suite 319, consisting of bedroom, sitting room and bath.

McManus listened intently as Brothers went on.

Mr. Rothstein was a very wealthy man engaged in many kinds of business, real estate, insurance, bonding, and so gambling, said Brothers. "A witness, Mrs. Putnam, shot he went to Lindy's restaurant, where the cashier delivered him a message. The message was that a man had called and said this is George McManus," tell Rothstein to call room 349 at the Park Central Hotel.

"Rothstein left Lindy's and we next see him or a person resembling him on the third floor of the Park Central Hotel."

"We will show you that about 10:30 that night, a shot was fired in the third floor of the hotel."

"A witness, Mrs. Putnam, not a resident of this city, had walked to the elevator. She had heard loud male voices and an oath. She was frightened and went back up the hall. She met a man doubled over holding his side."

"The carpet on the stairs to the corridor is very soft. At the right of the stairs is the service elevator. At the foot of those stairs, hotel employees saw the same man holding his side and saying 'I shot'."

Rothstein in Room
He told how a detective was called and then the house doctor. None of them could learn from the man who did the shooting.

Brothers said that a witness, Robert Farry, would testify he saw Rothstein in room 349 ten minutes before the shooting.

Immediately after Rothstein reached the hospital detectives searched the room. Brothers said:

"They found ginger ale and other bottles," he said. "There had been drinking."

"In the closet was this defendant's overcoat and in the bureau drawers were handkerchiefs with his initials."

"While they were sitting there the phone rang. A detective answered. As a result three men came to the room. They were Frank and Thomas McManus and Hyman Miller. An effort was made to find where this defendant lived but it failed."

PRECEDENT BROKEN

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—A precedent of long standing was broken today when President Hoover personally ordered the White House flag lowered to half staff in honor of Secretary of War James W. Good, until after the funeral Friday.

The rule heretofore has been that the colors above the Executive Mansion were lowered only in honor of a President or former President.

War, drew into the Chicago railway yards at 8:35 A. M. today.

Arriving over the Baltimore & Ohio Lines the train was switched to the Chicago & Northwestern tracks and paused at the west side yards to change equipment.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 21.—(AP)—James W. Good, who went eastward to a political career in Washington two decades ago, comes home today for the last time—honored in death with all the ceremonial tribute due a member of the Cabinet.

The body of the War Secretary, accompanied by Mrs. Good, her two sons and close relatives, arrives in Cedar Rapids late today. Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams is with Mrs. Good as the representative of President Hoover. Members of the Senate and War Department staff compose the rest of the funeral party.

Services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Presbyterian church, with burial in the family plot. A guard of honor accompanying the party home will be augmented by a detail of the Seventh Corps Area, while the Reserve Officers Training Corps of Coe College, of which Mr. Good was a trustee, will have a place in the services.

The homeward journey was made on a special section of the Capital Limited. Only a half hour's stop-over was made in Chicago, where the Secretary maintained legal offices for several years.

Funeral of Edw. N. Howell Held Today

The funeral of E. N. Howell, held this afternoon at his home on E. Fellows street, was largely attended by friends of the leading Dixonite, who has done so much for the betterment of the city and community. The services were in charge of Rev. Fr. R. C. Talbot, with the following as pall bearers: W. C. Durkes, Dr. C. H. Ives, A. H. Bosworth, H. C. Warner, Edwin Lawrence, Chris Coffey, Louis Pitcher, Edward Valle and Fred G. Dimick.

Mr. Howell is survived by his widow; four children, Mrs. Ira Lanphier of New Jersey, Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, Edward Tilton Howell and Hubert Howell; one brother, George, and several nieces and nephews. A sister, Mrs. Louise Alexander Howell, and two half brothers, Clarence and Frank Howell, preceded him in death.

Smallpox Spreads In Quincy: City Alarmed

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 21.—(UP)—All members of the local police and fire departments were ordered vaccinated today when additional cases of smallpox, including a policeman and a fireman, were reported to health authorities today.

City officials are becoming alarmed over the situation and are considering placing a ban on public gatherings until the epidemic subsides. Pupils of the fourth school have been ordered vaccinated.

LANDMARK RAZED
Shelbyville, Ill., Nov. 21.—(UP)—The Lincoln Hotel, formerly the Tallman House, for many years a landmark here, will be razed to make way for construction of a filling station. Abraham Lincoln was said to have spent many nights in the old structure.

HAVANA MAN, IN ILL HEALTH, GAVE RELATIVES HERE SOME ANXIOUS DAYS

John Brown, 49, of Havana, Ill., who has been in ill health for several months, left his home about two weeks ago and came to Dixon to spend several days visiting relatives. A few days ago, he appeared to act queerly and left the home of his relatives. He appeared to be brooding over the theft of a fur overcoat which he presumed to be of great value.

Brown spent almost an entire day, seated quietly in a chair in the County Court room, where court attaches, during the progress of a liquor trial before a jury, paid little or no attention to him, thinking that he might be an attorney from another city, waiting patiently to address the court on some probate matter. Most of the time Brown sat with his head between his hands in a corner where he attracted very little attention.

CONTINUED COLD TONIGHT: RISING MERCURY FRIDAY

Frigid Temperatures Held Sway In Mid-Western States

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Frigid temperatures held sway today in the midwest and northwest, and in many places the ground was spread with snow.

Continued cold and fair weather with readings ranging down to zero was the forecast for today.

Some of the low marks for yesterday were: The Pas, 6 below; Minneapolis, 14; Sioux City, 14; Bismarck, 8; and Salt Lake, 16.

In Chicago the thermometer is expected to reach 10 above by nightfall. Temperatures will begin to rise tomorrow the Weather Bureau predicted.

BLIZZARD IN MONTANA

Helena, Mont., Nov. 21.—(AP)—The first real blizzard of the season hit Montana today, shrouding many sections of the state in biting frost and sending the mercury down to new low levels for the season.

A cold blast swept down from the north late yesterday, making the night the most severe of the early winter. Lewistown was apparently hit hardest by the storm. In that section of north central Montana a light fall of snow was piled into drifts by a strong wind and the mercury slipped to five or more degrees below zero.

Throughout Wyoming and Colorado zero temperatures were generally the rule today.

Ash Doheny Go To Trial January 13th.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A motion was filed with the District of Columbia Supreme Court yesterday asking that Jan. 13 be set as the date for trying Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil man, on the bribery charge pending against him.

Alfred Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutors in the naval oil cases filed the motion.

It was expected that Frank Hogan, Doheny's counsel, would oppose the January date because of other court assignments and would ask that the trial be postponed until March. Inability of the prosecutors to agree with Hogan on the trial date prompted the motion asking the court to fix the time.

The indictment charges Doheny paid $100,000 to grant to one of Doheny's companies a lease on the naval oil reserve at Elk Hills, Calif. Fall was found guilty recently of accepting the bribe, and was fined $100,000 and sentenced to a year in jail.

A leaking gas meter which blew off the wall at the Dan Blackburn home, 204 Monroe avenue this morning at 7 o'clock, and then caught fire, threatened the house for a time and necessitated the attention of the fire department. BECKER PLEADS GUILTY

H. C. Becker of this city entered a plea of guilty to an information filed in the county court charging sale and possession of intoxicating liquor late yesterday afternoon. A sentence at the state work farm at Vandalia was suspended in the event that Becker does not violate his parole within the year.

A shot gun in the hands of his brother, Raymond Baker, accidentally discharged while Reuben was crawling through a fence and about 20 of the shot struck the latter in the feet and legs. His companions summoned the aid of a physician and the young man was removed to his home where he is recovering nicely.

An automatic electric signal is to be installed at the crossing over the Illinois Central tracks there, also.

JONES FOUND GUILTY

A jury in the county court this afternoon deliberated a short time in considering the verdict in the trial of Robert Jones, and at 2 o'clock returned a verdict finding him guilty of the three charges contained in the information, that of sale and possession of intoxicating liquor on the date when he was alleged to have sold liquor to investigators and on possessing liquor on the date of the raid two weeks ago. Jones resides east of the city on the River road and has figured in previous liquor violation charges in the county court. Testimony was taken yesterday and arguments presented to the jury this afternoon.

WON CONTEST JUDGING MEAT AT KANSAS CITY

Will Represent United States at International Exposition

(Telegraph Special Service.)
Kansas City, Nov. 21.—Members of the team of the Dixon, Ill., high school won the national championship in the meat judging contest held at the American Royal Livestock Exposition here yesterday, twenty-one teams having been entered and competing in the contest. The Dixon team representing Illinois was awarded first place, Colorado, second; Kansas, third; Louisiana, fourth; Pennsylvania and Idaho tied for fifth place.

Individual honors to the members of the winning team placed Tryon Rosbrook first and Lloyd Breisch second, as highest individuals, while Arthur Schick of the Dixon team placed fifth.

This team will judge meat at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago next week.

Out of 30 teams in the National livestock judging contest, the Dixon team, champions of Illinois, placed second in judging horses and tenth in sheep judging. Edward Lawton was third and Tryon Rosbrook, tenth, for individual recognition in the judging of horses. Tryon Rosbrook placed fourth in the judging of the cattle and Edward Lawton scored eighth in judging sheep. Winning teams in the whole contest were as follows, California, first; Colorado, second; Idaho, third; Iowa, fourth, and Pennsylvania, fifth.

WEISS' SECOND TRIUMPH

During the service of John N. Weiss as agricultural instructor in the Dixon high school, representatives of this department have attracted national attention. Twice the class has been awarded state championships and been represented in national event on both occasions. This year the class developed under Prof. Weiss' instruction entered the state meet at Urbana and came away with first honors.

In becoming Illinois champions the team was eligible to represent the state at the American Royal livestock exposition at Kansas City, where they were taken by their instructor. The department in which the Dixon boys scored national honors was practically a new study to them. The meat judging department was not a part of the program at the state meeting at Urbana, but by virtue of winning the fat stock judging contests, the Dixon team was eligible to enter the meat judging division at the national meeting at Kansas City, where they scored the heaviest. Prof. Weiss and the team representing the class in vocational agriculture of the Dixon high school are expected to return home tomorrow from Kansas City where they began their part in the national show program last Monday morning. Not only are the boys who won the national honors both as individuals and as team members to be congratulated but Prof. Weiss is likewise worthy of great credit for his tireless efforts in developing a team of boys to the point where they are capable of winning the national championship.

Union Organizer Is Dismissed By Judge

Marion, N. C., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Judge G. Vernon Cowper today dismissed charges of insurrection and conspiracy to rebel for which Alfred Hoffman, union organizer, and four other men were on trial here.

The dismissal followed presentation of evidence by the state only. The court held the state's evidence was not sufficient to take the case to a jury.

NASTURTIUMS
NASTURTIUMS are embroidered knots of color.
Worked in exquisite clusters with green trailing leaves.
Upon the needlework of Summer.

For Summer is a seamstress, as befits a royal maid.
And her silks are gay green stems and grasses.
And her velvet, flower petals.
While she borrows rays prismatic,
Caught from orange burning sunsets
And forms them into amber clusters
Sews them into crimson clusters
For her flowered borders.

Practical Club Meeting Tuesday

The Practical Club met at the home of Mrs. L. B. Potter on Tuesday afternoon with seventeen members and one guest present. The quiz was given by Mrs. Leon Hart in a very interesting manner. This was followed by the paper of the afternoon by Mrs. John Weiss on "The Advantages of a Person Today over One Living 100 Years Ago." Mrs. Weiss in her very able way took as the work for her paper, "A Lantern in her Hand," by Bess Streeter Aldrich. This was a most entertaining paper and also was in keeping with "Book Week," which is being observed all over our country this week. The roll call was answered by "Way Back When," after which Mrs. Potter, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Drach served tempting refreshments.

Orlin P. Yenerich, Of Ashton, Weds

A very beautiful wedding took place last Saturday afternoon of which Orlin Paul Yenerich and Miss Arlene V. Bracken, both of Chicago, were the contracting parties.
The wedding was held in the Evangelical church at Deerfield, Ill., of which Rev. A. P. Johnson, an uncle of the groom is pastor, and the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Johnson, grandfather of the groom, using the ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion; the couple together with the bridesmaid and the best man stood between palms, ferns, and flowers, and beneath an artistic arch covered with ferns and cold flowers, and in the center of it hung a white bell. After the ceremony, as the officiating minister was introducing them as husband and wife, some one pulled the ribbon which streamed from the center of the bell and a shower of rose petals fell on the happy couple.

Thirty of the nearer relatives were present and witnessed this happy event. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Yenerich of Ashton, and is well known in this community where he has a host of friends. He has a good position at the Stock Yards in Chicago where he has been for the past several years.

Mrs. Yenerich, the bride, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bracken, of Chicago. She was born in the city where she has always lived. After graduating from the Austin high school, Chicago, she took a business course and since has been an efficient stenographer in the New York Life Insurance Company office where she will continue to work, for the present. Mr. and Mrs. Yenerich will be at home to their many friends after December first at 1667 North Francis Avenue, Chicago.

This means, of course, attendance at hearings as well as sessions. As a result I see among us an increased passion for facts."

"The League is fast learning to distinguish between facts and opinion and it is also learning to discount political say so—political gossip.
"More and more as National and State organizations strengthen, we try to share the program in fuller measure with the individual. Since we are not politically ambitious we have a greater respect for quality rather than quantity membership. In short, we want politically educated women in our ranks."

Mrs. Rosenstiel Spoke At Annual Banquet

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 21—(AP)—During the past year more than 10,000 Illinois women stepped over their own door steps into new and untried places in the political affairs of the state, Mrs. J. Hewitt Rosenstiel, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, declared at the ninth annual banquet of the organization here last night.
"I always envy the preacher his much his text is," said Mrs. Rosenstiel in opening her summary of the achievement of the league during the past year.
"So I am taking a text—one addressed to the home bureau of Israel by the prophet 3000 years ago, when he shouted: 'Rise up, rise up, you women that are at ease—ye careless daughters give ear unto my speech.'"
"This of course is not addressed to any of us," continued Mrs. Rosenstiel. "But when he continues, 'blessed are they that sow beside all waters,' I believe that he is talking of the 10,000 league members, women who

of the Ideal Club at her home Wednesday afternoon. The entire membership was present, answering to roll call with suggestion for civic improvement.

Current events were ably given by Mrs. O. F. Goeke. Mrs. H. W. Leydig read the paper of the afternoon entitled, "The Vikings of the Middle-west." This dealt with the early struggles and hardships of these hardy settlers in LaSalle county Ill. and was intensely interesting.
During the social hour following very good refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Walter Smith.

Miss Graves To Talk on the Home

Miss Kate R. Graves of Chicago will deliver an address at the regular meeting of the Dixon Woman's Club Saturday Nov. 23 at Christian church.
The members of the American Home and Garden Dept. of which Mrs. Goeke is chairman, have arranged this splendid program for the club. Miss Graves is a well-known lecturer and will address the club using as her subject, "Making The Home Attractive at Moderate Cost," and will have material with her to demonstrate her ideas. All home-makers are interested in this particular subject and Miss Graves has a lecture prepared which is certain to be very interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Potter will furnish the music for this program. Mrs. Potter's beautiful voice is always an added pleasure to any program.
A new idea is being featured in the Dixon Woman's Club. Beginning Saturday a woman's exchange will be conducted after the regular program and should prove interesting. All foods and other articles to be sold must be at the church by 2:15 P. M.

The WOMAN'S DAY

"I'll tell you what has made me a rich woman," Tex Guinan told a roomful of women when she gave them a lecture at the Chicago Women's Athletic Club, "I'll tell you straight."

"It's not the men who made me rich, but you women who drive your husbands to night clubs, you wives who talk continually about the gas bill and the curtains."

"If you women would amuse your husbands when they come home, they wouldn't slip away and pay a $5 cover charge to get a little amusement."

HOME—A LA GUINAN
It would be interesting to know just how long a husband would stand for Tex's form of entertainment, if he had to have it in his home—free; how long before he would be up for murder.
Suppose, for instance, when he came home tired and hungry after a day of wrestling with the ticker tape, or the sale of suburban lots, or what not, he found his wife in a closer-than-the-paper-on-the-wall type of dress, with 17 ropes of pearls around her neck, and a heaping teaspoonful of diamonds scattered over her fingers, and a clacker in one hand and a squealer in the other.

And as he arrived, she would leap into a chair or on a table and scream "Hello, Sucker!" at him, working the squealer and the squawker simultaneously.

The average husband would reply, "Sucker me eye—how about supper? Suppose you give this little steak a hand?"

"Plenty of butter and eggs in the house tonight," she could call above the din. "Let's have some jazz."

A little of this treatment, and a man would be glad to listen to curtains and gas the rest of his life—or if he didn't, and still insisted on his entertainment a la Guinan, the wife would probably rather pay Tex to supply it, than do it herself.

REGARDING HUSBANDS
Among the deadly sins, Tex places that of taking your husband too seriously. She herself has had three. How seriously she took them is her own affair, but certainly we know that he did not devote all her energies to entertaining the current husband. If she had, she never would have become the night club queen that she is.

Undoubtedly Tex Guinan has an extraordinary personality, and is a great success as a night club hostess. She is an excellent business woman.

as well, and she knows human nature thoroughly—particularly does she know the psychology of the spender.
When it comes to providing the well-pocketed butter and egg man with a hilarious evening, she can do it. But when it comes to advising wives about their husbands I think she is no more inspired than you or I.

AH! GOLD DIGGERS
The women who have insisted on men taking them to a night club, and who didn't care what the bills were, had quite as much to do with lining Tex Guinan's pockets, as the women who drove men there to get away from the latest bulletins on the bills and the curtains.

It may be good advice not to take your husband seriously—though if you don't, some one else may. But also it is just as well not to take too seriously the advice of other people about your own husband. He is an individual problem.

OUR UNTRUTHFUL DRIVERS.

Automobile drivers as a class are fearfully untruthful people, if figures collected by George A. Parker, Massachusetts registrar of motor vehicles, can be believed.

Registrar Parker declares that out of more than 30,000 persons who were questioned by his office last year after they had figured in motor accidents, only six were truthful enough to admit that they had been driving faster than 20 miles an hour when the accident happened.

Furthermore, he added, only one man in the 30,000 admitted that he had been at fault.

We don't know just what these figures prove, except that the average motorist always believes he is right. And that's not so hard to believe, either.

THAT "RED MENACE" AGAIN.

Edwin Marshall Hadley of Chicago, former president of the Military Intelligence Association, demands that the Senate investigate Communist propaganda and the extent to which it is disseminated in the American public school system.

There's no real need for such an investigation, but it might not be a bad idea to have it, at that. Perhaps it would reveal, to some of our eternally apprehensive super-patriots, that the "Communist menace" in this country is so slight as to be practically non-existent.

This nation is just about as apt to go red because of Communist propaganda in its schools as it is to return to negro slavery. If a senatorial investigation would serve to reveal that fact, and thereby deprive a few professional red-baiters of their thunder, it might be a good thing.

OUR GAMBLING BILL.

The amazing statement that $4,000,000,000 changes hands annually in the United States through commercialized gambling is made in the current North American Review by Howard McLellan.

McLellan itemizes the nation's gambling bill as follows: Baseball pools, $500,000,000; policy games (lotteries based on daily totals of bank clearings, etc.), $300,000,000; racetrack betting, $1,000,000,000; handbook betting on races, $800,000,000; cards, dice and similar games of chance, $1,000,000,000; bucket shops, $500,000,000.

It is impossible for the average man to estimate the accuracy of these figures, of course. But if they represent anything like the truth—and McLellan asserts that they are an underestimate, if anything—our gambling problem is a far greater one than most of us have supposed.

STABILIZING PROSPERITY.

The importance of the group life insurance scheme, which more and more business organizations are adopting for their employees, is shown in figures just issued by B. A. Page, vice-president of the Travelers Insurance Company, who announces that approximately $80,000,000 will be paid out this year to the families of some 53,000 workers insured under the group plan.

This averages nearly $1500 per family—a sum that is larger than the estate left by 65 per cent of the country's wage earners. Thus the wages, or salary of many individual workers have been projected into the future a year or more beyond death.

The payment of these sums of insurance money not only serves to save many families from suffering; it acts as a strong stabilizer of the country's prosperity. Eighty million dollars is no small contribution to the nation's annual buying power.

SYNTHETIC GASOLINE.

If you're worried what your auto is going to run on in that not-distant day when gasoline supplies begin to expire, take encouragement from the words of delegates to the international conference on bituminous coal, at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

A German tells how synthetic gasoline is made by combining hydrogen and coal. Another tells of an internal combustion engine that uses powdered coal for its fuel—and does right well with it, too. Still another says that powdered rice husks make excellent fuel for such engines. Peat dust is also spoken of as a good substitute.

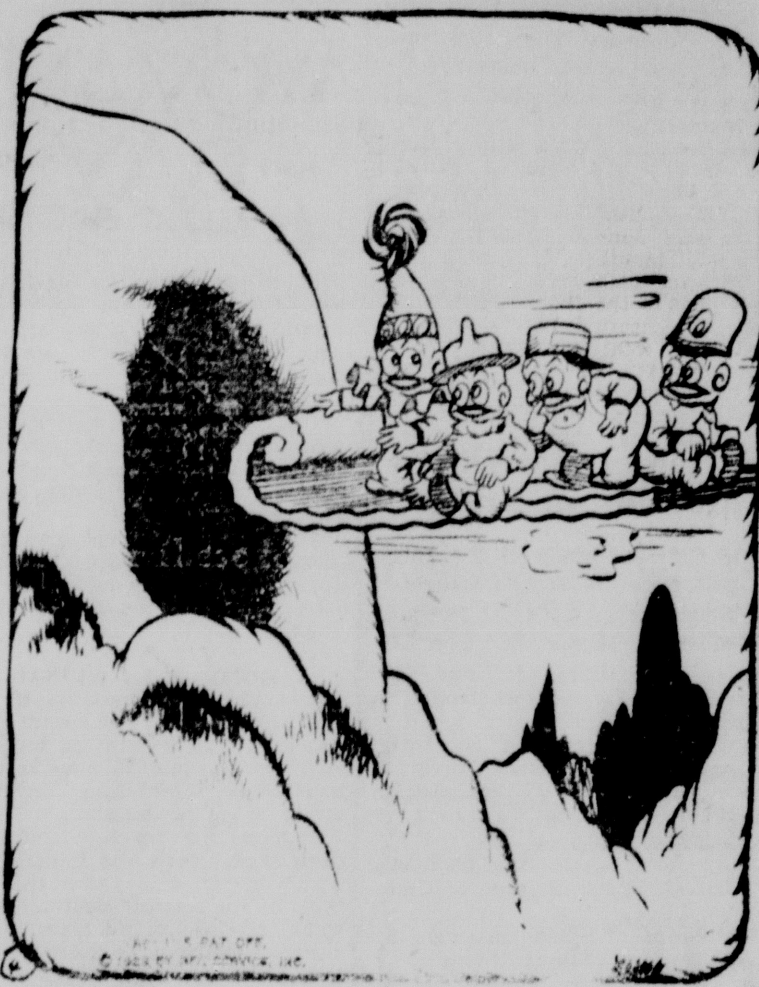

We may be burning some curious things in our autos some day, but evidently we'll go rolling along as cheaply and powerfully as we do now, gasoline or no gasoline.

Only 20 were killed the other day when Mexico voted on a new president. We can do almost that well in Chicago alone.

The season of the year is at hand when a cow looks exactly like a squirrel, deer, rabbit or quail.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY MOSCH

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The next thing that the Tinymites knew, they saw their friend, the Goofy-goo, perched out upon the sled front. He was proud as he could be. "Climb back upon your sled," he cried. "Then you can go on with your ride. Whenever you're in trouble, you should always send for me."

And so the bunch, still hanging tight, swung up their feet with all their might. It surely was a funny sight to see them scrambling round. It didn't take them long to get back on the sled and you can bet that they were glad to do so, 'cause they now felt safe and sound.

One Tiny shouted, "Goofy-goo, we're very much obliged to you. How did you straighten up our sled? That trick was simply great." The Goofy-goo just heaved a sigh, and said, "Oh, anything I try I always do. The thing that fixed your sled up was my weight."

"I knew if I sat on the prow 'twould straighten it right out some-

how. And that is just what happened. Say where have you Tinymites been?" "Oh, here and there and everywhere," said Scooty. "We've had quite a scare. We thought we'd fall down from our sled." This made the big bird grin.

The bird then said, "Now I must fly away. I'll see you bye and bye." He flapped his wings and off he went, to disappear from sight. And then the bunch heard Clowney say, "I wish he hadn't flown away. He's always been real nice to us. I think that he's all right."

All of a sudden came a thrill. The Tinymites floated toward a hill. "Oh, look," cried Coppy. "There's the entrance to a cave. I'll bet we're going in. Oh, my, oh my! It's too late now for us to try to dodge it. We will have to take whatever we may get."

(The Tinymites land in the cave in the next story.)

PORT ARTHUR CAPTURED

On Nov. 21, 1894, Port Arthur, a town and strongly fortified naval station in Manchuria, China, was captured by the Japanese.

A treaty signed shortly afterward provided for its cession to Japan with the whole south coast of Manchuria from the Liao to the Yalu.

But Russia, Germany and France intervened and induced Japan to relinquish all this territory for the sum of 30,000,000 taels and on Nov. 30, 1895, its evacuation was begun.

With adjacent territory, Port Arthur was released by China to Russia for 25 years in 1898, Russia's object being to obtain a naval station which she could defend for the use of her war vessels in eastern waters.

It was invested by the Japanese in the Russo-Japanese war and surrendered Jan. 2, 1905. By the treaty of Portsmouth, September, 1905, the town was ceded to Japan for the duration of the Russian lease.

The lease was further extended in 1915.

MAN IN FRENCH MILITARY CELL MAY BE YANKEE

State Department Puts Its Machinery Working On Mystery

Algiers, Nov. 21 —(UP)—Behind the wall of the Orleansville military prison, near here, is a mystery soldier of the French Foreign Legion who knows neither his name or nationality, but who pretends to recall having been shot with the Americans at Chateau Thierry in 1918.

The mystery man enrolled as Frank O'Brien, but names mean nothing in the Legion as half of the soldiers give false name upon enlistment.

Sometimes the boy contends that he is a Canadian, or English, or French or Belgian. He often gives the name of DeBruyker, but generally he offers a different name every time he is questioned.

Through the State Department in Washington and Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the American Consul in Algiers, Oscar S. Helser was furnished with characteristics of the missing Merlin Pritchard. He asked prison officials to compare his identification with marks on the boy's body.

"The mysterious O'Brien has been in the prison for many months, but I have been unable to find out why he was put there", Helser told the United Press today.

Mentally Unbalanced
"It is clear from his letters that he is mentally unbalanced."

"He is an incessant letter writer writing always in English. In one letter to me, he pretends to have been shot in the head at Chateau Thierry. He has no papers to prove that he was ever with the A. E. F. At other times he pretends to be an Indian, claiming to have been born in Oklahoma on April 1, 1899 and that he worked in New York as a logshoreman. He sailed by the French liner Savoie and worked his way to Algeria where he enlisted in the Legion."

"In the last letter I received, he said he was Merlin Pritchard. He asks that we obtain his liberation. I communicated with the State Department and Mrs. Pritchard has sent indications which may solve the mystery."

"Her son is reported to have enlisted in the ninth division of the regular army in Denver during the war. He indicated that if the boy in prison is her son he should have scars on his right thumb and right eyebrow and mark of his right arm's double fracture."

It was remarked that the boy in prison never gave the name of Pritchard until he had received a letter directly from Mrs. Pritchard, asking whether he was not her son.

At the prison offices the United Press learned the Legionaire "Frank O'Brien" was entered on July 14, 1928, for a five year term for attempted desertion.

Down State's Fire Losses Decreased

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21 —(AP)—Fire losses in down-state Illinois for the first eight months of 1929 have shown a decrease of $1,605,765, State Fire Marshal S. L. Legried, announced today. The total for this period in 1929 is $7,494,844, against a total of $9,100,609 for the same period of 1928, with the exception of January and June a reduction was shown each month.

Mr. Legried calls special attention at this time to the fire hazards connected with heating homes for the winter. The total loss due to heating equipment in the fiscal year was $2,586,955, which includes fires due to sparks on roofs, defective or overheated flues and defective or overheated stoves and furnaces. Most of these losses occur in homes—of 8,986 fires, 5,181 were in homes.

The annual report also shows that electricity was a major cause of fire in Illinois last year, resulting in a loss of more than a million dollars. Mr. Legried states that electricity was a major cause of fire in Illinois last year, resulting in a loss of more than a million dollars. Mr. Legried states that electricity when properly installed offers slight fire hazard and that amateur installations and tampering are responsible for many losses.

The fire marshal's division is being rapidly reorganized under a plan whereby the state is divided into districts, with a deputy in each district. It will be the duty of the deputy to cover all portions of his district regularly and systematically and each deputy will be held absolutely responsible for conditions in his district. Every order for the correction of fire hazards will be checked up on or about the expiration date and if

TWO IN FAMILY MADE WELL AGAIN BY NEW KAVATONE

Husband and Wife Relieved of Nervousness Stomach and Kidney Trouble
by Master Medicine.

One of the happiest privileges of the Kavatone Man who is at Ford Hopkins Store, this city, where he is explaining daily to throngs of health-seekers the wonderful new remedy, is to hear the reports of those who have been restored to health by this modern remedy for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

MR. AND MRS. W. W. HOPKINS.

Every day happy men and women return to tell what Kavatone has done for them. Among these are Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hopkins, 422 Bellevue Pl., Kalamazoo, Mich., who are glad and well again, free from pains and miseries that beset them. To the Kavatone Man this happy couple said:

"You may be sure that Kavatone has turned our home from one of suffering to one of happiness, as my wife and myself are glad to testify. For a long time I suffered with stomach and kidney ailments, and rheumatism so bad I could hardly work. I had no appetite, and what I did force myself to eat would not digest and I suffered intensely from gas, bloating and choking sensations. My rest was so frequently broken at night that I lost in strength and ambition. I had, it seems, tried everything that was suggested, but instead of finding help I grew steadily worse."

"I had read and heard about Kavatone, the new medicine, and what it was doing for a number of people I knew personally in Kalamazoo. I wondered if it would help me. Well, the results of the trial more than exceeded my fondest hopes. I took just four bottles and I am completely well. All pain has disappeared; my stomach and kidneys function as they should and with sleep and proper digestion. I am gaining daily in weight, energy and strength. When I saw what wonders Kavatone has done for me, I had my wife take it for her nervousness and rheumatism. Kavatone won another quick victory. Both of us are well and happy; do you wonder that we are eager to recommend Kavatone to all who suffer as we did? There can be no better medicine than Kavatone—for Kavatone is perfect."

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins' experience is just one of thousands like it; cases that resisted everything until Kavatone was used. Kavatone asks merely the opportunity to make you well. What this modern compound of 20 juices of leaves and herbs and other beneficial ingredients, has done for others it is ready to do for you.

The Kavatone Man is a Ford Hopkins Co., where he is daily meeting the public and personally explaining the merits of this great preparation, the famous Kavatone figure (an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body) is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to see and study this figure, an experience which will be interesting and instructive.

HOOVER READY TO REORGANIZE NAT. GOVERNMENT

Various Veterans' Agencies First To Be Consolidated

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington — (AP) — President Hoover is ready to translate into action ten years' talk about reorganizing the federal government.

As a first step he has approved a plan to consolidate all of the agencies dealing with war veterans and their dependents and will ask the sanction of Congress for it at the opening of the regular session two weeks hence.

Chief among these agencies are the Veterans' Bureau, now functioning as an independent establishment; the Pension Office, administered by the Interior Department; the National Home for Disabled Volunteers, another separate establishment; and the hospitalization division of the Public Health Service.

The consolidation is expected to bring about a saving of several millions of dollars in administration and hospitalization costs alone and to simplify the work of dealing with the veterans and their dependents.

Under One Director.
There would be created a new single agency under a director reporting directly to the President through his administrative assistant. It would handle more than three-quarters of a billion dollars annually, embracing the $300,000,000 spent by the Veterans' Bureau, some $250,000,000 by the pension office and $20,000,000 by the other divisions.

Under the direction of the President a comprehensive survey now is being made for consolidating within the Justice Department most of the agencies dealing with prohibition enforcement and a recommendation along that line also will be made to Congress in the President's message.

This would bring about a transfer of the Prohibition Bureau from the Treasury to the Justice Department and the concentration in that department of other enforcement work. The whole work after the transfer would be under the single direction of G. Aaron Youngquist, Assistant Attorney General.

Consolidation of other agencies dealing with the same or kindred subjects will be taken up soon with a view to recommendations to Congress for the necessary legislation. The purpose is to avoid duplication in effort and work, to simplify and lower the cost of administration and to save time for those who have business with the government.

POET'S CORNER

THE DRUGGIST
No one likes to be worn and weary with ill.
And so to the druggist they go
To purchase elixir, pain-killer or pills
For troubles one cannot outgrow.

A kind of a doctor the pharmacist is.
Compounding prescriptions for you;
Ailments and afflictions soon vanish
When his Directions you quietly pursue.

For headache, for pains in the stomach
Or side,
Or if you have lost all your vim;
When toothache, rheumatism or ear-ache
Abide,
You tell of your suffering to him;

A case of sore throat or bronchitis
As well,
The gripe or diseases of skin—
In fact, there are cases where some People tell
Of remedies making one thin.

When lips become sore and you suffer
With cold,
Or boils, or bunions and corns,
You go to the druggist and there You'll behold
A cure for those mischievous thorns.

There's compound, a salve or a liniment
Sure
For every common ailment of man;
There's blood purifier and foot-ease
For cure,
To benefit all whom they can.

There's tinctures and tonic, and balm
And lotion and laxative, sweet;
And many more that you can't see
But that are sure to be of use.

The flight of time can not erase the Obligation to provide complete
Protection for the remains of loved ones.
On the contrary, every tick of the Clock emphasizes the fact that this Obligation can be fulfilled only at the Time of burial.

Positive and permanent protection
Can be secured without inconvenience,
And without unreasonable expense
By insisting on the Norwalk Vault.

To know that you are securing the Advantages of a Norwalk Vault you Must insist on this Vault being supplied.
Leading funeral directors furnish
The Norwalk Vault and give with it
A Fidelity Certificate proving that It is genuine.

Republican Chief and His Hostess-Daughter

Claudius Huston, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, has his "official hostess" too. She is his daughter Katherine, with whom the chief of the Grand Old Party is pictured above as they arrived in Washington to take up their residence.

And mixtures and essence, and much else to calm
Nerve racking from head to your feet.

Among an assortment of vials, large and small,
With labels he only can read,
He'll take from the short and he'll take from the tall,
Then fill the prescription you need.

In days long ago in the fairy-tale
time,
A druggist sold nothing but drugs;
And now, midst this twentieth century
grime,
He even sells poison for bugs.

A store full of wonders the druggist
now owns
Just look at the things on the shelves!
His powder and paint for the women
postpones
Old age as it creeps on themselves.

No matter what's wanted, there seemeth to be
One place where it's sure to be found,
The druggist does well in this "Land of the Free"—
A servant whose service is bound.

Silver Polish Was Cause Of Sickness

Chicago, Nov. 20 — (AP) — The Chicago Department of Health believes it has discovered the cause of several hundred cases of food poisoning which in recent months have been mistakenly diagnosed as poisoning.
Seventeen persons were poisoned at a hotel banquet a month ago, Dr.
Arnold Kegel, Health Commissioner, said, and this case supplied data on which the department made its investigation. The poisoning, was traced to a chemical used for polishing silverware.

"Dishwashers are usually none too careful about such things," Dr. Kegel said. "Not knowing the polish was poisonous, they were probably not as particular about removing it as they should have been."

As an emergency measure, Dr.
Kegel said he would prohibit the use of the poison for silver polishing in public places. An effort later will be made to obtain legislation regulating its use.

There have been no deaths from the poison, Dr. Kegel said, but many cases of serious illness.

Hope For Two Lost Aviators Revived

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 20 — (AP) — A radio report saying that the plane of Carl Ben Eielson, noted Arctic aviator, had been seen flying in the vicinity of North Cape, Siberia, revived hope here today that he would be heard from soon.

The report, although meager, was believed to be later than that received here Monday saying the wreckage of Eielson's plane had been sighted by natives in the vicinity of the ice-bound ships Nanuk and Stavropol.

Ten days ago, Eielson and Frank Dor-brandt, a fellow pilot, had been moving passengers and furs from the Nanuk, a vessel belonging to the Swenson Fur Company, to the Alaska mainland. Each had made one trip to the Nanuk and return and Eielson was making his second journey to the Nanuk when the report that the wreckage of his plane had been sighted was received from the ships' radio.

The two fliers planned to rescue the crew of the Stavropol, a Russian ice breaker, as soon as they completed the Nanuk job. In the initial trip to the Nanuk they brought back six of her passengers and valuable furs.

ing an address he was scheduled to

Sir Arthur is confined to his bed at his home in Crowborough, Sussex, due to overwork. He has cancelled all engagements for several

TEAMS TO PLAY ROSES TOURNEY GAME UNDECIDED

No Selections Are Made
For Big Game In West New Years

BY RONALD W. WAGONER
United Press Staff Correspondent
Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 21—(UP)—
Out in this section of the country—where coonskin coats have no part in the football picture—gridiron fans are playing a merry game of ring around the Rose Bowl.
They are asking the annual question: "What teams will play in the annual Tournament of Roses football game on New Year's Day?"
It was agreed today that the affair has narrowed down to the following classification:
West—California and St. Mary's.
East—Pittsburgh.
Midwest—Notre Dame and Purdue.
South—Tennessee and Tulane.
A Los Angeles newspaper reported tickets for a Notre Dame-California game were being printed. William W. Monahan, graduate manager of the University of California, declared the story was "absolutely false."

No Invitations Out.
C. Hal Reynolds, president of the Tournament of Roses Association, refused to hazard a guess on the two most likely participants. Reynolds declared no invitation has been issued to any team.

Most westerners believe the Golden Bears of California have the inside track for first call as the "home" team. The Bears, however, meet Stanford this Saturday and the Cardinals may mar California's present unblemished record.
If Stanford wins, there is every reason to believe little St. Mary's College of Oakland may receive a bid. St. Mary's goal line is unreached this year and California was considered lucky to emerge with a 0 to 0 tie.

Many Want Purdue.
There is a growing sentiment in this region for the Purdue Boilermakers as the visiting aggregation, but the Big Ten has a rule against post-season conflicts.

Notre Dame also would be a welcome attraction in the Bowl. Trojan rooters came back from Chicago with warm praise for Knute Rookne and the South Bend crew.
Pittsburgh has supporters due to the flattering reports from the east regarding "Toby" Uanss, halfback, and Joe Donchess, end.

Tennessee and Tulane, rated as the best in the south, are bound to receive consideration on account of the excellent Rose Bowl records hung up by Alabama and Georgia Tech.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—The Ankeny greenhouses are gradually increasing their production of cucumbers and the first tomato seed has been planted. The vines should yield tomatoes for picking in February. Sundays picking of cucumbers was 236 dozen or 118 cases, with orders waiting for the crop. The vines will produce for four or five months out of doors. Daily pickings are now increasing as the plants mature and his new vines start to produce. Later with all units in production, hundreds of dozens of "cukes" will be picked and shipped daily.
Those who have not as yet visited the plant will find it a most interesting sight and will be welcomed by Mr.
Ankeny.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual bazaar and dinner in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 3. Dinner will be served starting at 5:00 o'clock.

Three orchestras have been engaged for the annual American Legion Carnival to be held in the Woodman hall here Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 28, 29 and 30. The "Crooners," under the direction of Dave Sherwood will play on Thursday night, the opening night. Friday night will feature a program devoted to old time dancing, square dances, circle two steps, quadrilles, etc. with the Hermann-Manning orchestra as an attraction. A few fox frogs and other dances also will be presented and "The Horse, Crick Band" will be another headliner. The Al Lind orchestra has been selected for the Saturday night attraction. A midway, featuring booths, stands and entertainment will occupy the west hall and elaborate plans are being made to care for large crowds nightly.

Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Sr., will entertain the Past Noble Grands clubs this Thursday afternoon. A program of interest to all is planned and a large attendance is desired.

rugged kind—just the right age to put on gain and grow into money fast. They are a real offering and are the kind that have always made money for the brood sows.

Most of these pigs are vaccinated. Delivery via

SOLDIER'S FOOD IN U. S. COSTS $.51 PER DAY

Quartermaster General's Annual Report Also
Lauds Menus

Washington. (UP)—Soldiers are getting the best food served in the history of the United States Army and it is costing the government only 51 cents a day per man, the annual report of Maj. Gen. Frank B.
Cheatam, Quartermaster General, said.

Extension of the use of rayon, adoption of roll collar overcoats and plans to provide mounted troops with leather laced boots to replace shoes and leggings are expected by Cheatam to contribute to appearance and morale.

The problem of obtaining satisfactory cotton cloth for uniforms has been so difficult Cheatam has recommended adoption of a khaki shade identical with that used by the Marine Corps in place of the familiar olive drab.

All army housing projects authorized by Congress in 1927 have been completed except the hospital at the Fort Leavenworth Disciplinary Barracks, Cheatam reported. Building authorized in 1928 has been completed except for barracks and quarters at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.; Fort Jay, N. Y.; Fort Monmouth, N. J.; and Selfridge Field, Mich.

Sixteen housing or hospital projects of the 1928 program representing an expenditure of about $3,300,- 000 are completed or under way.
Work has not yet been started on the remaining 17 projects of the 1928 program which will require expenditure of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,- 000.

Under authority of Congress Cheat-am began correspondence to identify widows and mothers of American soldiers, sailors and marines buried in Europe preliminary to pilgrimages to the graves at public expense.

Suburbs Of Moscow Invaded by Wolves

London, Nov. 21—(UP)—An invasion of hordes of wolves in the

The dispatch said that the wolves had attacked adults and children and had devoured two small children.

Moscow's suburbs recently have been overgrown with peasants who have set up temporary homes while awaiting permission to migrate to Canada.

SOCIETY NEWS

Now Speaking Of Greeting Tokens

Speaking of greeting cards—and most people are these days, when with Christmas coming along, not to mention all the birthdays and what not—here are a few things that may be interesting.

History of Greeting Cards.

The history of greeting cards literally dates from remote antiquity. A boulder carrying a terse chiseled message from a Stone-Age cave man with the first greeting card. Then as civilization progressed, writing in the earlier Assyrian periods was done on clay tablets and baked before transmission. In Egyptian times the sending of a greeting was an important event. Among the higher classes, the princes and pharaohs, there was much exchanging of greetings, the message itself being usually done by a hired scribe on papyrus, from which our modern paper takes its name and origin, and the Bible of the ancient Egyptians, "The Book of the Dead" is largely composed of greetings to the gods and from the departed to the living, many of which, with only slight changes, would make good greeting-card sentiments today.

In the Middle Ages, greetings, particularly from royalty, were often in the form of jewels or carved ornaments, and this extravagance continued into the 17th and 18th century. At the French court in the picturesque days of Madame Pompadour, solid gold greeting tablets were "good form," and the Metropolitan Museum exhibits a case filled with such expensive messages—some of the tablets or greeting cards of gold and others of ivory enclosed in jeweled and enamel cases.

The first greeting card in the modern manner is ascribed to Sir Henry Cole, author of Sumner's "Home Treasury" and was brought out by Joseph Cundall in 1845 in England. This card was designed by J. C. Horsley, of the Royal Academy. For a few years thereafter the sending of these cards was limited to a few wealthy English families, who employed artists to make the design and then had a sufficient number struck off to send to their personal friends, and it was a great distinction to receive one. Christmas book-lets were first used about 1884.

Today royalty and nobility in Europe and high officials in the United States still call on famous artists and verse-writers to produce individual cards for their personal use but the same talent also produces designs for the popular cards.

New Modernistic Influence.

Cards for the three approaching important greeting days—Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's all show the modernistic influence which first became evident last year. Cards in daring cube and triangular linear effects are seen in greater numbers, and even in the favorite conventional styles colors are noticeably brighter and more daring, with all-over designs replacing the simpler corner decorations. Envelope linings have almost unanimously "gone modern" in pattern and coloring.

Thanksgiving Cards

The Thanksgiving Day greeting card appears to have come definitely into vogue, judging by the number and variety on display in the smarter New York shops. Typical autumnal colors—red, warm yellows and browns—predominate, and designs stress the Harvest Home theme. Appreciation of friendship and hopes for continued prosperity and well-being are conveyed. The spirit is mainly one of restrained sincerity, although some are lightly humorous. Especially worded cards for various members of the family are increasingly in demand.

The 1929 Christmas Cards

The man who said "There's Nothing New Under the Sun" didn't know about the 1929 Christmas cards, in which paper, printing, coloring and design combine in presenting new ways of expressing the old Merry Christmas.

Many of the cards are big enough and gay enough to convey the most generous and hearty greeting in history, but at the same time they show a definite trend toward an effective simplicity rather than bizarre elaboration. Color effects are striking and sophisticated, with a noticeable use of new blues and purples and greens, without being extravagant or sensational. Conspicuous is the new preference for etchings, some signed, some smartly hand-colored, and often a Christmas story of their own with only a word or two of greeting. The new large size cards serve a dual role, as the etchings are suitable for framing, and the printed cards, many of which show picturesque old English and New England scenes, have various decorative uses on boxes.

There are two kinds of Christmas cards for personal use—the general and the individual. The former are more formal. They are engraved or printed with the sender's name, and the same card is usually sent to the entire list of friends and acquaintances. The individual cards are selected with especial thought of the appropriateness for the recipient, and may be dignified, amusing, religious or satirical. The signature on these cards is usually hand-written and a nick-name or initials may be used, although the full name is used on the general cards.

A calling card plate may be appropriately used for engraved cards, but whether the cards are engraved or printed, the lettering of the signature should be matched as nearly as possible to that of the message on the card. The facsimile or hand-written signature effect which made its appearance last year continues in popularity and is recommended by the fact that it is adaptable to almost any card and also adds a more personal touch. It entails, however, the added initial expense of having a special plate made.

The new designs run the entire gamut from the conventional old-fashioned Christmas motifs to the most ultra-modern effect to meet every taste. Old-time out-door scenes, reproductions of old masterpieces, and modernistic silhouettes are equally favored. Ships continue popular, and there are hunting scenes, up-to-date winter sports and biblical designs, clever animal pictures, and amusing cards with toy and Santa Claus and clown designs especially for children. Envelope linings often go a step beyond mere formal patterns and continue the theme of the card itself.

For the New Year

Many of the New Year cards incorporate an expression of thanks for a Christmas remembrance and take the place of the individually-written notes of thanks. They are also appropriate for business acquaintances to convey a friendly good-wish, and they are just the thing to send to the person who sent you a Christmas card and who was not on your own Christmas list. Many people send New Year cards in addition to Christmas cards, and an increasing number incline to the continental mode of New Year cards in preference to Christmas cards, except for immediate friends.

Etiquette of Greeting Cards.

Greeting cards conform to a well-defined code of etiquette, defined by the standards of good taste. As personal messages, it is required that the envelopes be addressed by hand in ink, and particular care should be taken to verify the initials and spelling of the name, and the address. If there are two envelopes, the name and address are written in full only on the outer envelope. The inner envelope, with formal invitations, carries only the name and is left unsealed.

The name and address of the sender is often written on the flap, and serves not only as a return address but also as a notification to the recipient of the sender's present address.

Cards to business friends are as a rule sent to the business address, unless the sender is acquainted with the recipient's wife. In that case the card is sent to both at the home address. The married business woman, if she uses her maiden name in business, includes that name in italics under her joint signature with her husband on their Christmas cards. The unmarried business woman should use her first name, not "Miss," in signing her cards.

The use of the sender's first names is also becoming more popular for Husband and Wife cards. Etiquette is in favor of the form "Mary and John Smith" and both are generally accepted as good form.

They Change Clothes, Manners--And Minds!

BY AELAIDE KERR.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

New York—(AP)—American women are changing their clothes, their manner and their minds. The last variations is scarcely a novelty their husbands are heard to remark. But the others, they say, promise surprising results to figures—both feminine and mathematical.

Skirts have come down and trousers fit the waist. That means new wardrobes that strike friend husband's bank balance a blow.

When La Femme is arrayed in her raiment that dips and sweeps, she finds unconsciously the manners that went with last year's sports clothes don't belong. That means a return to the soft voices and gentle graces which recall grandmother's day.

At first she declared she'd never make the change. The short skirts of yesterday were too comfortable. But she has changed her mind. She is dropping her daytime skirts four to seven inches below the knee, her evening skirts to her instep, and she wears a belt where her waist is, not around her hips.

She is falling in line with the procession. But it's giving her some anxious hours.

In the shops one sees evidence of the effects that the clothes' change has wrought. A woman tried a new frock in a Fifth Avenue establishment yesterday and trailed out for inspection.

"Geel!" said the mere male who was going to pay for it, "it looks like Lillian Gish. It—it—well, I like it."

A complete food now with Vegetable, Egg-Flakes and Cattle Bone. Triple air washed. Laboratory tested. Every particle a necessity—no waste—goes twice as far as cost less per month. Doubles pleasure with birds. Brings thrilling song, wonderful plumage. And here's gravel with charcoal for digestion, mineral substance and hygiene. At any store.

To Wed Dr. Marcellus Persian Consul Gen'l.

Chicago, Nov. 20—(AP)—Mrs. Katharine Winterbotham Buchanan, the former Mrs. Thompson Buchanan, last night announced her engagement to the Persian Consul-General, Dr. Marcellus D. Von Redlich. The marriage had been set for last Monday, the announcement said, but was postponed because of the illness of Mrs. Buchanan's mother, Mrs. J. R. Winterbotham.

Yesterday Dr. Von Redlich was quoted by the newspapers as expressing surprise about the entire affair. Last night he confirmed Mrs. Buchanan's announcement.

Dr. Von Redlich also confirmed the fact that Mrs. Buchanan had been a witness for him in his suit for divorce from Mrs. Gertrude R. Von Redlich preferred living in Austria to Chicago. The Consul General had charged desertion.

Thompson Buchanan, playwright, and Mrs. Buchanan were divorced in 1926.

NOW THE DENTAL SOCIETY SPEAKS—

Chicago, Nov. 20—(AP)—Kiss a girl who is dieting and baffle none but yourself if you get "trench mouth," the Chicago Dental Society today advised its public.

"Trench Mouth," the society said, "is prevalent, and women on a diet are particularly susceptible to it because their resistance has been lowered by dieting. It is for her sake that the society urges obligatory abstinence, at least for them once."

Gilbert's Home Is Being Re-modeled

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 20—(UP)—Ina Claire, film star and wife of John Gilbert, is tired of "having" lumber every place and carpenters the rest of the places" so today she was planning to leave her husband temporarily to live in less noisy surroundings.

Gilbert's home was built when he was a bachelor. That, as married and it was found that the place was not big enough, so carpenters began remodeling it. Ina decided yesterday that John could look under piles of lumber for his neckties each morning if he wished, but that she preferred to take her 15 trunks elsewhere.

Gilbert said his wife would live in a rented home in Beverly Hills until the work on his house was finished.

Meeting of High School P. T. A. Held

The third meeting of the High School Parent Teachers Association held Wednesday afternoon proved to be very interesting. Mr. Frazer gave a very stimulating discussion on "The Wise Use of Leisure." He placed the responsibility upon the parents of guiding their children in the use of their leisure time through setting examples for them in the home. Mr. Frazer defined leisure as "that time which is not spent at one's particular job" and he encouraged the adults to improve upon their choice of activities during that brief period.

A special effort was made to secure the attendance of mothers of sophomores, a prize being awarded the advisory group with the largest representation. The mothers had an opportunity to meet the teachers and discuss individual problems with them during the social hour.

WOMAN TRIES TO SHIELD LOVER IN SHOOTING SCRAPE

She Finally Tells Of Her Lover Trying To Kill Husband

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Forbidden love entangled Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien in a plot with her lover to kill her husband, police quoted her confession today after a 17-hour ordeal of questioning broke down her attempt to shield Howard Dorr with a story that it was she who shot and critically wounded William O'Brien yesterday.

The 27-year-old husband, a clerk in the County Recorder of Deeds' office, lay at the point of death in Holy Cross hospital, a bullet imbedded at the base of his skull.

For 17 hours, police said, the 26-year-old wife, who expects to become a mother in the spring, reiterated that she shot her husband because he had abused her.

Her father, Thomas Keegan, appeared at the Detective Bureau and urged her to tell the truth.

Taking Deputy Commissioner of Police Stege and Assistant State Attorney Harry Ditcher aside, out of her father's hearing, Mrs. O'Brien told them the revised story that the police officials saw as pointing to a plot to obtain $5,000 in insurance O'Brien recently had taken out.

Dorr, who was an insurance agent as well as the landlord of the apartment where the O'Briens lived, sold him the policy and had urged him to take out another for $15,000, the authorities learned.

The landlord shrugged his shoulders and said he had "nothing to say" when informed of Mrs. O'Brien's confession.

Had Been Seeing Her According to the young wife, Dorr had been seeing her in her bedroom for several weeks, while O'Brien worked extra at night as a street car conductor. The landlord, she said, was there when her husband entered the bathroom between his bedroom and hers yesterday.

Dorr left the room, she told the police, and then she heard shots. At the first report, she said, O'Brien called out, "somebody's shooting at me." She laughed and answered, "It's only a light globe bursting."

The second shot struck the clerk-conductor in the forehead. He started to run down the hall, collapsing as two more shots were fired.

Dorr then turned the gun on himself but the hammer clicked on empty shells. Mrs. Dorr, the mother of the landlord's two children, ran from their apartment and begged him not to shoot.

"Don't worry, Mrs. Dorr," Mrs. O'Brien told the police she said. "I'll take the rap and say I shot him."

The O'Briens had quarreled over her constancy, the wife said, but her husband had never mentioned Dorr in that connection.

An appreciative audience faced Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Kindig at the evening service last night. The singing was much appreciated especially the solo by Mrs. Kindig. "He died of a Broken Heart for Me" which Mr. Kindig accompanied on the piano.

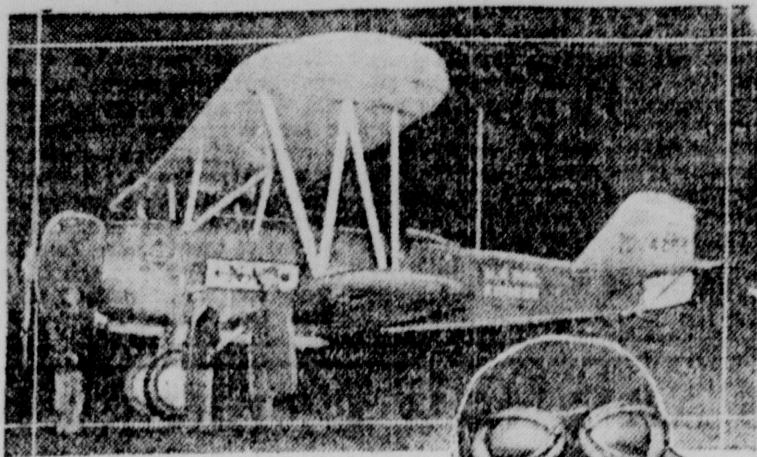

The children's service in the afternoon showed Mr. Kindig's power as a speaker to children in which his chalk talk on "Repentance" kept the attention of his audience from beginning to end. We are hoping for a larger attendance to-day.

The pastor spoke on "Hope's Haven" describing "Hope as the 'Eye of the Storm'" so frequently seen by despairing in the midst of the great typhoons that sweep the sea. When the blue spot in the sky becomes visible then the sailors begin to hope that the storm will soon be past.

Hope is a spiritual flower blooming like the snowdrops, amid the snows of winter, a star which shines clearer and brighter in the murky gloom of night. It is like the grateful shade of the palms of the oasis in the bleak, barren desert. What a terrible plight is the case of the hopeless Paul describes it to the Ephesians. "Having no hope and without God in the world." Titus Bates, frost bitten and helpless, crawling out into the Antarctic blazes and rather than be a helpless burden to endanger the lives of his comrades in the Scott Expedition, Scott himself last of the brave band to die, without hope of rescue, burkhard in the Central Australian desert, writes after seven days of thirst, "There is no hope—I am lost." Rescue cannot come, but in the spiritual realm, there is hope for man for Jesus Christ came to seek and to save that which was lost." And Paul says "That we, through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have good hope."

And our assurance in His word makes us to enjoy that hope which is the anchor within the veil. John Knox, when he lay dying in Edinburgh, said to his friends, "Read to me in Hebrews sixth chapter, verses eighteen and nineteen. There's where my soul's fast anchored." The anchor which prevents us from drifting and steadfast, never failing. There is the Blessed Hope of His Return and glorious appearing with which we can comfort our souls. Jesus is the Only Hope of a world lost in sin. The whole in the grip and thralldom of sin when He came but He was the Light that shone in the darkness as a Beacon Light and He is still the same Jesus. The return of the sunshine brought hope to Noah amid the torrents of the deluge, the return of the High Priest from the Holiest of all brought hope

Fog-Blinded Flyer Cheats Death

Lost in a blinding fog over Cleveland, O., with his gas supply running low, Robert P. Hopkins, 22-year-old pilot on the Chicago-Cleveland night airmail route, risked his life in a forced landing rather than take to his parachute and let his falling plane endanger the lives of sleeping residents. Luckily, he landed in a park, escaping injury. He is shown here with his plane, just after his narrow escape.

to the waiting multitudes on the Great Day of Atonement and the return of our Lord will bring gladness and joy to His waiting church when "He returns in power And in glory to reign" "Even so, Come, Lord Jesus"

Tonight prayer meeting in the east room. Evening services of music and song, led by the Kindigs will begin at 7:30 P. M. The Pastor will speak on the "Last Testament."

Tomorrow (Friday) will be the children's program night. They will render to us the sweet songs they have been learning in their meetings.

Come tonight and tomorrow night and do not come alone but bring a friend with you. A hearty welcome awaits you. Come.

REVIVAL IN ASHTON

Revival services are being held at the Evangelical church at Ashton under the leadership of Rev. Frank Brandteller of Freeport, formerly pastor of the local Grace Evangelical church. The meetings are to continue until Dec. 1st, with Rev. Brandteller preaching each evening except Saturday. The attendance at the services has been most gratifying and the interest of the people is showing itself in a very marked way.

GRACE CHURCH NOTES

The interest in the services at Grace Evangelical Church on Wednesday night was fine. The audience paid the closest attention to the speaker as he brought the message on the theme "The One Thing of Greatest Value" using the text, Matt. 16:26 "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" The speaker said in part as follows: The greatest and most important fact in the world about man may be expressed in five words: Man is a spiritual being; Man is a living soul because of this man can respond to spiritual inspiration; he can reflect the thoughts of God; he can know God. The greatest moment in a man's life is, when he becomes conscious of his spiritual nature and begins to live in harmony with the dictates of his soul. What will it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul. The big values in the text are soul and world and which is of greater value. We are living in a big round world. Our earliest impressions were that this is a flat world but experience has taught us that it is a round world. The most valuable thing in this world is not gold, silver and diamonds. It all depends what intrinsic value the world places on these to make them valuable.

Neither is the biggest thing stocks and bonds, houses and acres. They are valuable and the loss brings untold heartaches and disappointments which the recent history of the stockmarket has demonstrated.

The one thing most valuable in the world is the human soul. If the human soul is not any more than the soul of an animal it has not much value. It will go out with death. But if the human soul is the divine breath, that is immortal for this immortal soul which through disobedience of the commandments of God went astray. God in His infinite love gave the best He had, namely, His only begotten Son to redeem it and to bring it into its former relationship.

When we think of the value of the human soul, we are inclined to think only of men and women who have made good in the world. We are inclined to forget that even in the outcast and the down-trodden and in the greatest sinner there is a soul for which Christ died. Jesus came for the rich as well as the poor for He is no respecter of persons for who-soever will may come. In the time of George Whitefield, the great evangelist, who conducted Evangelistic meetings in the South, colored people were not permitted to be in the Tabernacle but listened from a distance and after the meeting they came one by one and asked: "Masa, do I have a soul?" and Mr. Whitefield assured them that although their skin was dark and that they were in slavery Jesus Christ paid the price for them as well as others.

The Evangelist will again speak tonight at 7:30. Subject, "Why Be A Christian?" Come and enjoy the good singing and sermons which are delivered by Rev. Beischer. Friday night will be family night. Come and bring the entire family.

Hal Bardwell will tell you of the benefits to be derived from insuring your automobile with the Lincoln Lloyds Co.

MELLON'S TAX CUTS TO TOTAL NEAR 2 BILLION

Treasury Chief Has Made A Wonderful Record To Date

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A total reduction of nearly two billion dollars in the taxes of the nation since 1921 will be accomplished if Congress adopts Secretary Mellon's recommendation that the rates on incomes for 1929 be lowered by one percent.

The reduction made by Congress since Mellon took office in 1921 were through the revenue acts of 1921, 1924, 1926 and 1928. The first slash became effective in 1923 and cut $663,000,000 off the total collections.

But as the tax rates of the nation were reduced, taxable incomes increased with corresponding benefits for the Treasury.

Secretary Mellon in recommending tax reductions to Congress maintained that reduction in taxes invariably increased revenue and explained that this resulted from funds that were held in investment and became active because the surtax and income tax was not so heavy. It also caused an expansion of business, he said, which increased the flow of revenue for the government.

Reduction in the government's expenditures played a great part in making tax reduction possible. These expenses have been reduced from $6,482,000,000 in 1920 to $4,848,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1929 ending last June 30.

Kidnaped Baby Is Back With Parents

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—A three-month-old baby who was kidnapped from in front of a Brooklyn department store Tuesday was back in the arms of his overjoyed parents and a woman who confessed she stole him and tried to pass him off on her husband as her own child was in jail, awaiting arraignment on charges of abduction.

The child, Donald Larney, had been well cared for and suffered no ill effects from lack of a special diet, a doctor had prescribed. His mother, Mrs. Leo Larney, had feared Donald would die if not given the proper food.

Yesterday Donald seemed to have a slight cold. Mrs. Reover called a doctor, told him she had found the baby in a subway station and asked him to aid in the deception of her husband.

The physician, Dr. William E. Lipold, who had read of the kidnapping informed Reover the baby was not his, and its return to the Larneys followed.

While a prisoner, he served as jail pharmacist and assistant to the jail physician and in the latter capacity made several trips outside the jail proper. A storm of criticism was aroused when this became known and the practice was discontinued.

But, O. how sad the ending To sit beside my dear For I have often told him My darling, don't you fear.

Then he said, "No, my darling, Your words can never be, For I soon will be sleeping In hell away from thee.

"But listen to me, wife, Come closely while I tell, When I am gone please don't forget me— The one who loves you well.

"I know I've been a rambler, I know I've done you wrong, But don't forget me, darling, Whenever you sing this song.

"I want to work for Jesus, And work both night and day, For he will gladly help you

SINCLAIR FREE, RETURNS TO HIS RACING STABLES

Says He Was "Victim of Political Campaign By Dems."

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair today laid aside the compulsory duties of pharmacist at the District of Columbia jail for the freedom and leisure of a multi-millionaire oil baron and proprietor of racing horses.

His sentences for contempt of court and of the Senate arising from the oil scandals of the Harding administration were completed last night at midnight and a few minutes later he emerged from the jail to be greeted by a few close friends and hasten at once to the Mayflower Hotel where Mrs. Sinclair awaited him.

His plans were somewhat indefinite, but he expected to go first to New Jersey, where the stock farm of the Rancocas Stables is located, and then to his Long Island home and New York office.

The booming flashlights of newspaper photographers hailed his emergence from the jail and reporters clustered about him anxious for a statement.

Has Nothing to Say "I have nothing to say," he told them, "I came to jail for not talking, you know."

He was greeted at the door by his brother, E. W. Sinclair, and G. T. Stanford, an attorney. In sharp contrast with the May night on which he hustled past reporters and cameramen into the jail, Sinclair agreed to pose for photographers and later to make some remarks for the talking motion pictures.

A short time before leaving the jail Sinclair issued a statement asserting that he had been imprisoned as a "victim of political campaigns to elect honest Democrats by proving how dishonest Republicans were."

Entered Jail May 6 He asserted that he could not be "contrite" for sins which he had "never committed, nor pretend to be ashamed of conduct" which he said he knew to have been "upright."

Sinclair entered the jail on the night of May 6 to serve terms of six months for contempt of court and three for contempt of the Senate. Portions of the two sentences ran concurrently and with deductions for good behavior, he was confined in the jail for six months and fourteen days.

While a prisoner, he served as jail pharmacist and assistant to the jail physician and in the latter capacity made several trips outside the jail proper. A storm of criticism was aroused when this became known and the practice was discontinued.

But, O. how sad the ending To sit beside my dear For I have often told him My darling, don't you fear.

WOMAN WRITES POEM CONFESSING MURDER OF HUSBAND FOR WHICH HER AGED FATHER WAS SENTENCED

Ashland, Miss.—(UP)—Her poetic confession to the murder of her husband a matter of record, Mrs. Marion Drew, 25, was held in jail here pending a sentence that will send her to prison to take the place of her aged father.

In one of the most unusual confessions in Mississippi criminal history, Mrs. Drew wrote Gov. Theo. C. Bilbo in verse the story of how she killed her husband, then prompted her 8-year-old daughter to swear falsely that the widow's father, G. T. Hunter, was the slayer.

The poem follows: Down in a lonely graveyard, Where the flowers bloom and fade, There lies my darling sleeping In a cold and silent grave.

He died not broken-hearted Nor by a disease he fell, But in an instant parted From the ones he loved so well.

Down on my knees before him I pleaded for his life, But deep into his bosom Had plunged a forty-five.

But, O. how sad the ending To sit beside my dear For I have often told him My darling, don't you fear.

CALLS ON SPIRIT OF GRAHAM TO RE- TURN AS WITNESS

Of Tremendous Growth of His Invention, The Telephone

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21.—(AP).—The spirit of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was called upon here today to "see what a giant, men of the telephone industry have made of the child of his brain."

Those were Governor Emmerson's words, conveyed to the Jubilee convention of the Illinois Telephone convention by Director H. H. Cleveland of the department of public works, in the absence of the Governor, who is in the south for a rest. With a brief explanation, Mr. Cleveland read the governor's manuscript.

Glorification of the telephone for the change to the world it has wrought, was the main purpose but the end of the manuscript, the governor appealed to the telephone men for sympathetic understanding of the work of the Illinois Commerce commission.

"I am not intending to preach to you but I feel very deeply on this question and could not refrain from mentioning it," the manuscript said.

"The state commerce commission stands as the regulatory force in Illinois. No one assumes that we have reached the final goal in our public utilities laws. But the men selected to enforce any law may breathe life and spirit and justice into it just as they may suck away its very life blood by turning it to selfish ends.

The powers vested in our state commerce commission are sufficient to insure intelligent regulation. I have selected men to administer it, in whom I have faith, men of vision and character and courage.

Not Political Agency.

"The Illinois commerce commission is not a political agency but a judicial body. There will be no special favors dispensed but at the same time there will be no attempt to play politics with commission rulings. The commerce commission is a court of original jurisdiction. As such its members will be expected to weigh carefully the evidence in every case brought to its attention and to render fair and just decisions based on the evidence presented. In doing so it will function without executive suggestion or interference."

Earlier in his speech, the governor had intended to say as follows:

"The great state of Illinois has had its share of the prosperity, good will and happiness created by Prof. Bell's invention. Telephones in the state number 1,809,458 according to the last figures available.

Four hundred and ninety-five companies are in operation maintaining 2,250 exchanges, most of which give day and night service. The people of our state have been forward looking in taking advantage of the service you offer.

There is one phone for every four persons in the state. The number of phones has increased thirty-three and a third per cent in the past five years but even now you have not reached the theoretical point of complete saturation and the extension of your service to a still greater percentage of the people of the state may be expected in the next few years.

Property Valuable

"In Illinois alone, the value of telephone properties, exclusive of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and farmer-owned lines, is well above a quarter of a billion dollars, according to figures supplied by statisticians for the state commerce commission. Fifty years ago it was an even to carry on a conversation over a few miles of iron wire. Today it is a commonplace to carry on business transactions over a two or three thousand mile stretch of highly sensitive copper wire or cable. The ocean itself has been spanned by the human voice. You have opened the door of television and are within its portals. But still the work of your engineering departments is far from completed and you who are here today may live to see the time when your highly developed methods are as obsolete as the antiquated contraptions with which Professor Bell

Shapely Legs Often Ruined By VARICOSE VEINS

Simple Home Treatment
Brings Amazing Results

Varicose Veins are veins which have become dilated and enlarged by undue pressure made upon them and are most frequently caused by tight garters, girdles, constipation, positions requiring long standing, childbirth, etc.

Anyone suffering with Varicose Veins should start and take immediate precaution because untreated veins have a tendency to grow worse, and worse until finally they can only be relieved by an operation.

It's now an accepted fact that the best home treatment to banish Varicose Veins is Moore's Emerald Oil—a powerfully penetrating and antiseptic oil which quickly stops the pain, wonderfully strengthens the legs and swiftly reduces most enlarged and swollen veins to normal.

Why let your leg beauty and attractiveness be ruined by ugly veins when a 2 ounce bottle of Emerald Oil at Schildberg Pharmacy or any drug store swiftly reduces the worst and most long standing cases! A woman from Oregon writes: "I suffered with Varicose Veins for 30 years and finally I tried Emerald Oil. I must say it's everything you claim. I can't praise it enough and I'm so glad I read about it in the Oregon Journal."—Ada.

THE EYE IN CHILDREN
BY GEORGE M. TRALLE, M. D.
Santa Ana, Calif.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Parents often say to me—"Doctor, I do not want to put glasses on my child, unless it is absolutely necessary."

My answer is: "I heartily agree with you. Glasses are a nuisance to wear—do not like to wear them myself—and unless the benefit to be derived by your child from wearing glasses will outweigh the expense and inconvenience, I will certainly not recommend them."

Glasses are quite limited in what they accomplish. If the eyeball is too large or too small in relation to its refractive media, or if some part of the refractive media is not perfectly accurate in shape, then glasses may be able to bring the rays of light to a sharp focus and thus improve the vision and relieve the eye strain.

Glasses do not cure diseases of the eye. They may assist by relieving eye strain, and are therefore only one of the many means or agents used in treating and correcting errors and diseases of the eye. Other remedies are often of much more importance than are glasses.

It is a safe rule to have your child's eyes examined every year or so, in order, to forestall trouble. It should be taken to a good oculist for a thorough examination, and if any defect is found the proper means to correct it should be employed. Childhood is the time of growth and development, and the eye should grow and develop along with the rest of the body.

A defective eye may be so corrected as to become normal, or to improve very much as the child grows. I have seen many children whose eyesight was so defective at the first examination that it was possible to read only the largest letter on the test card, but after a few years of proper care the normal line could be read. Had these children been neglected and been permitted to reach maturity before having their eyes examined, such results would have been impossible, and their eyes would have remained defective through life.

GAS TAX CASES SET FOR TRIAL ON NEXT TUESDAY

Springfield Judge is Impatient At Delays Encountered

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Hearing on the 122 injunction suits restraining the state from using $1,600,000 collected for the month of August under the 3 cent gas tax was set for next Tuesday morning by Judge Frank W. Burton in the Sangamon County Circuit Court Wednesday.

Judge Burton expressed disapproval of delay in bringing the litigation over the constitutionality of the gas tax to a conclusion. He indicated that he would favor a motion by the Attorney General withdrawing all demurrers of the state and asking that temporary injunctions be dissolved.

Should the jurist dissolve the temporary injunctions, the oil companies would have ten days in which to file an appeal with the Supreme Court for the December session. This course of action also would put judgment of the merits of the gas tax directly in the hands of the Supreme bench.

Will Be Brief Hearing.

In conference with Attorney's representing the oil companies and Assistant Attorney S. Winning and Harrington Wood, the judge announced that the hearing Tuesday morning will be brief. Attorneys representing the oil companies will hold a final conference Monday afternoon.

Most of the oil companies of the state favor dropping the litigation in keeping with a request from Governor Louis L. Emmerson, who declared that the money is needed for state highway purposes. A few of the companies, however, are reluctant to withdraw their actions and so far efforts to obtain a unanimous agreement have failed.

Until today, the Attorney General's department had agreed to select one test case to decide all the suits. After the conference this morning, however, Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom indicated that he may insist on individual trial of each case in hope of forcing some of the recalcitrant companies to abandon their present attitude.

Six Former Executives Arrested in $3,500,000 Michigan Bank Swindle

Charged with using and losing $3,500,000 of the funds of the Union Industrial Bank at Flint, Mich., in stock market speculation, six former executives of the institution shown above were arrested on charges of embezzlement. With one exception they are now said to have made nothing on the venture. They are: (1) John S. Archer, former senior vice president; (2) Ivan P. Christensen, former assistant cashier; (3) Milton Follock, former vice president; (4) Russell Ransom, former discount manager; (5) Mark H. Kelley, former vice president; and (6) Elton D. Graham, former vice president. It is probably the biggest bank embezzlement in the nation's history.

Compton's volunteer fire department scored again when it saved the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beemer, which was threatened by fire shortly after the noon hour Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Beemer had left about noon for West Brooklynn when a neighbor discovered that the roof was on fire. The alarm was spread, and it was discovered that the fire had started in the attic, after the wall and ceiling of an upstairs bedroom was opened. The cause of the fire is quite unknown, as the chimney was about ten feet from the place where the fire started. Some damage was done by water and smoke to the entire house, as the fire had been smoldering for some time before it was discovered. Mr. and Mrs. Beemer greatly appreciate the efforts of the many neighbors, and friends who helped to save their home.

Are you being denied the happiness that is due you in life?

It is easy to abuse our golden life-given body, but Nature has a way of signaling danger. If heeded, graver troubles may be avoided. That tired, exhausted feeling, lack of appetite, aches and pains, flabby flesh, skin troubles—all speak of a body weakness—a lack of the normal count of red-blood-cells.

Every normal person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles to the cubic millimeter—those vitalizing, tiny red-cells which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

SSS has been a blessing to millions of people. It helps Nature increase the red-blood-cells. It promotes healthy body building. It is time-tested and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

You owe it to yourself to try SSS. It is easily assimilated. Pleasant to take. It is on sale at all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

GRIDIRON NEWS

SEASON ENDS SATURDAY

BY WILLIAM WEEKES

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, Nov. 21—(AP)—When the Western Conference football season comes history late Saturday afternoon, a host of stars whose playing careers have ended here, will have ended their Big Ten gridiron careers.

Coach Jimmy Phelan of Purdue's first championship team, will part with real regret with six regulars and five reserves. Two of the finest all-rounders in the country, Ralph "Pete" Welch and Glen Harmon, will wear Purdue's golden livery for the last time Saturday against Indiana, as will Bill Woerner, the end who caught the passes that defeated Iowa last week and gave Purdue the tie. With them will go Eb Caraway and Bill Mackle, ends, and Red Knight, one of the outstanding tackles of the Conference. The reserves are: Lange, center; Stewart and Myers, tackles; Kaunmier, guard and Huntzinger, end.

Illinois will suffer the greatest numerical loss as well as the loss of regulars: Captain Crane and Wetzels; Burdick and Gordon, tackles; Jolley; Taewain and Wolast, ends; will make their final stand for Illinois against Ohio State Saturday, while five fine backs—Frosty Peters, Mills, Tumm, Humbert and Walker, will play their last game as members of an Illini eleven. Ohio State, which will battle Illinois for the runnerup honor in the 1929 races, loses 11 men, Barrett, right center, Ughely, Carter, and Martin, guards; Glasser, tackle and Shaughnessy, ends, will leave roles in the Buckeye line, and Alan Tolman and Fouch, quarterbacks; Coffey, Huston and McClure, halfbacks, will finish their Big Ten competition.

In Iowa's game with Michigan at Ann Arbor, not only will seven of the Hawkeyes' best players for the season in intercollegiate competition, but the contest may mark the final appearance of the whole Iowa squad, unless the Big Ten decides to let the school back into its good athletic graces. Captain Willis Glasser, ranked with the best halfbacks in the west, Hagerty, fullback; Myers, Roberts and Fuchman, a great trio of guards, Westra, regular tackle; Carlson, an end, and Pignatelli, first string quarterback, are the Hawks who will both collegiate opponents no longer.

Minnesota's numerical loss will not be so great, but the departing players will leave Spears with plenty of work when he tries to fill their places next season. Bronko Nagurski, probably the greatest all-around football player in the league, who has performed equally well at fullback and at tackle, will be the chief loss, but Art Phanner and Darnhart, halfbacks, will not be easily replaced. Gopher linemen who will meet Wisconsin in their finals, are Langenberg, tackle, and Kakela and Pulkrabek, star guards.

Nine Northwestern seniors will wind up their careers against Big Ten competition when the Wildcats tackle Notre Dame at Evanston. Captain Henry Anderson, guard, and Mickey Erickson, center, are the only regular linemen to go, although Vandenberg, tackle, and Singleton, reserve end, will wear Northwestern suits for the last time. Russ Bergheim, whose play at fullback almost has made Northwestern forget the loss of Hank Bruder, will graduate, along with Bill Claderwood and Johnny Haas, regular backs. Reserve backs who are seniors are Johnson and Klear.

Michigan's losses will include Captain Joe Tarkowski, who plays at end or halfback; Dahlem and Wilson, halfbacks, and Dynamite Joe Gembs, fullback, whose toe has given Michigan several field goals and point after touchdown victories. Bonard, center, Poe, star guard, and Poorman, tackle, will leave big vacancies in the Wolverine line.

Coach Glen Thistlethwaite of Wisconsin, will lose almost a whole line and three backs. Captain Parks and Linden, guards; Kettelaar and Schumacher, tackles, and a pair of ends, L. Smith and Warren, are seniors; and Hal Rebholz, Sheehan and Dunaway will be missing from the backfield force next year. Only Rebholz has played regularly, however.

Indiana's share in the "Old Oaken Bucket" battle with Purdue Saturday will be the last for McCracken and Catterton, regular ends; Ringwalt, center or guard; Unger, tackle and Hohnacki, guard, among the linemen. Four backs will finish up competition, Lowell Todd, John Magnabosco, Paul Ba'ay and Frank Faunce, being seniors.

Coach A. A. Stagg's thirty-eighth University of Chicago squad will be full of holes after the University of Washington game Saturday. Both regular ends, Kelly and Jersild, Cassie and Bunge, regular guard and tackle, respectively, and both of Stagg's centers, Weaver and Marshall, are approaching the close of their careers, while Blum, Heywood, Wattenberg and Burgess are the departing backs.

EASTERN FOOTBALL

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—With the climax of the 1929 football season coming Saturday for half a dozen of the most important eastern eleveners, hard work has all but been finished for the week.

The big question all along the Atlantic seaboard is whether Albie Booth will be able to lead Yale's attack in the Harvard Stadium, and if so, for how long a period. The Tiny Minute Man of the Elis appeared in uniform at the practice field in New Haven yesterday, but merely tried his hand at forward passing and upon a few drop kicks at the bar.

He is the only one of the leading eastern scorers with a field goal to his credit this season, and has yet to miss a goal from touchdown in a major game.

Booth limped less, but Mal Stevens, Yale coach, insisted that it was still "uncertain" whether the toy Bulldog would face the Crimson.

Dama Walsh sent the Yale line through a session of "life" tackling as the backs went through a passing drill. Later a dummy scrimmage was held against the scrubs who used Harvard forward and lateral passes. The practice was secret.

At Cambridge, Harvard reported great success by its varsity in halting the Yale running attack, as played by the Crimson scrubs. The Harvard team returned to work after a brief vacation at the Myopia Hunt Club.

Lehigh has returned McLernon and Ware to the varsity line-up for its game against Lafayette on Saturday when an attempt will be made to break a run of ten straight Lafayette triumphs. Lafayette remains a heavy favorite.

Major Frank Cavanaugh has fed the Fordham varsity some new offensive tricks which he hopes will turn back the strong Bucknell eleven at the Polo Grounds on Saturday. Bucknell, always a strong team and perennially a spoiler of otherwise perfect seasons for its rivals, worked in the snow and the rain at Louisville yesterday for its clash in New York.

New York University is working with more of an eye for its Thanksgiving Day struggle here with Carnegie Tech than for its game against Rutgers at the Yankee Stadium on Saturday.

The Navy also is casting its eyes into next week when Dartmouth will be met, but West Virginia Wesleyan is gunning for the Midshipmen this week. It is hardly likely that the Wesleys will give the Navy anything more than a good stiff workout, however. Much the same situation prevails at West Point, where the Army will meet Ohio Wesleyan, a team which last year defeated Michigan and Syracuse, but which has failed to reach such heights this season. The Westerners can give the Cadets just the sort of work they need to be in fine fettle for Notre Dame a week later.

Harmon's Successor Is Still Undecided

Chicago, Nov. 21—(UP)—The executive committee of the Chicago Stadium Corporation today still was in doubt as to who it will name as a successor to Paddy Harmon, deposed president.

Harmon was ousted Tuesday and several names have been mentioned in connection with the appointment of his successor but so far there has been a definite trend toward no one.

First came the rumor that Jack Dempsey might succeed Harmon but this was denied by Sidney Strotz, secretary-treasurer. Dempsey was out of town but his secretary, Leonard Sacks, said Jack was not seeking the Stadium job.

Others mentioned in connection with the presidency included James Norris, who reportedly owns some $600,000 worth of stock, John Ringling, circus man, and Sheldon Clark, prominent Chicago sportsman.

Intermingled with the Harmon successorship talk was a rumor that the Illinois Boxing Commission was investigating the Stadium regarding tickets to recent shows.

General John V. Clinchin, chairman of the commission, was reported to have ascertained that the attendance count for all Stadium shows so far was short of the actual attendance. Clinchin reportedly was looking into the matter with a view to demanding back taxes from the Stadium.

Hartnett Submits To Second Operation

Chicago, Nov. 21—(AP)—Gabby Hartnett again is waiting to learn if a surgical operation has cured the arm ailment which prevented him from catching baseball games for the Cubs last season.

Hartnett, whose condition has caused mourning among Cub fans, has had a "repeat" operation on his tonsils, to be certain nothing that might cause infection remains. He had the tonsils clipped last summer, as well as all kinds of treatments for his arm, but failed to regain the ability to throw in the style that made him one of the best catchers in either major league.

Maroons, Huskies Captains Friends

Chicago, Nov. 21—(AP)—The University of Washington and Chicago football teams have not met before and the rival captains, Paul Jessup of the Huskies, and Pat Kelly of Chicago, come from different parts of the country, but Saturday's game at Stagg Field will not be their first meeting.

Jessup, who lives in Bellingham, Wash., and Kelly, a Chicago youth conditioned themselves for football last summer, "mucking" in the same lead-silver mine at Mullen, Idaho. They will not be directly opposed Saturday, however. Kelly being an end, and Jessup being stationed at center, although he has played at tackle heretofore.

SIXTEEN TEAMS UNBEATEN; BUT SEVEN WERE TIED

Next Saturday's Games on Gridiron Likely To Bring Upsets

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Nine of the 16 unbeaten major football teams in the country will see action this week-end, but hardly more than five of them stand a chance to have their records marred.

Of the 16 major undefeated teams, seven have been tied. The unbeaten untied group follows: Pittsburgh, Purdue, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Tulane, Texas Christian, Ohio University, Western Maryland and University of Utah.

The unbeaten group with ties against them follow: Davis & Elkins, California, Duquesne, Detroit, St. Mary's, California, Fordham (tied twice) and Southern Methodist (tied three times).

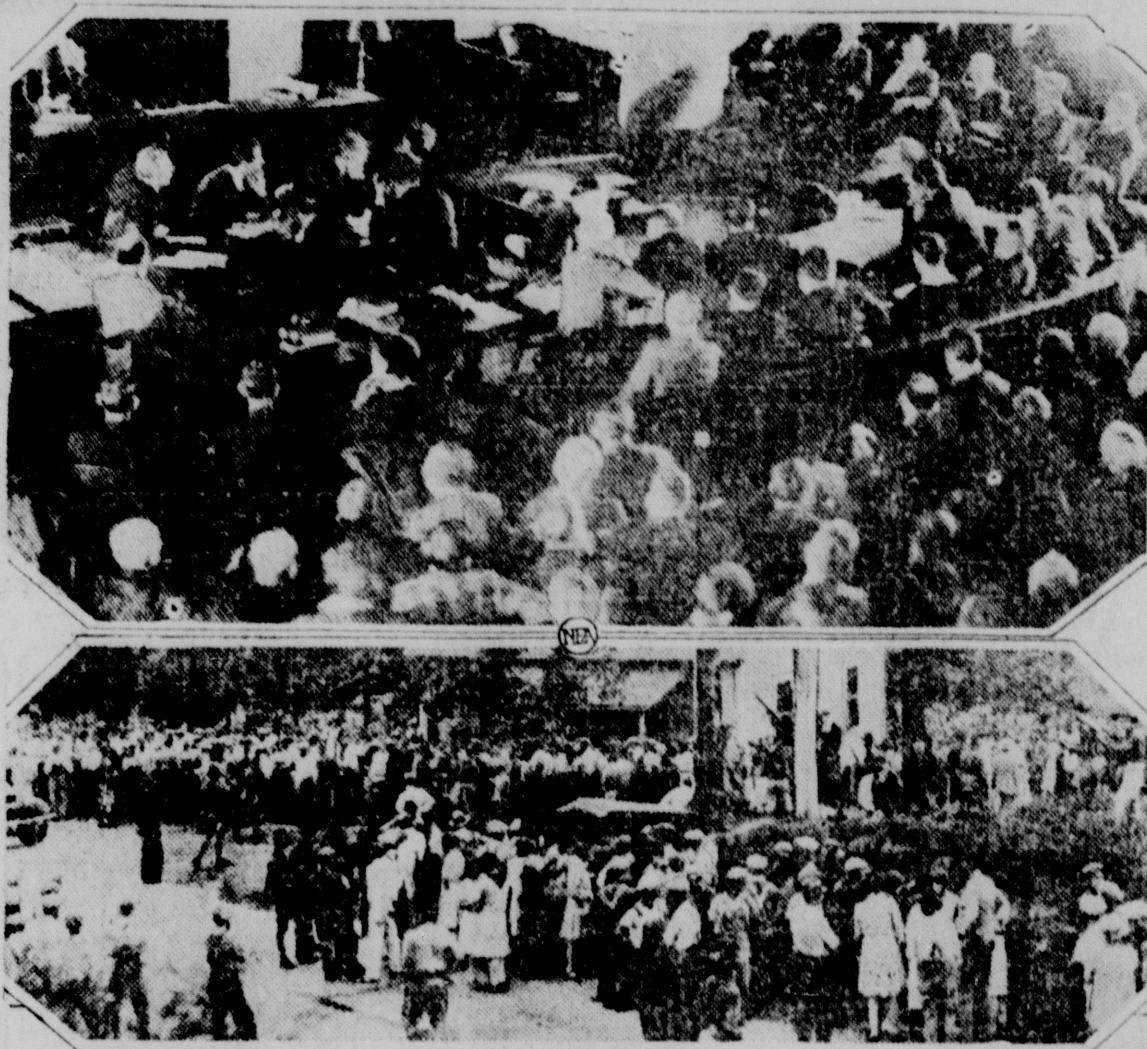

Ohio University, with a record of eight straight victories and 273 points to its opponents' 7, may face unexpected opposition against Wittenberg Friday. Wittenberg won last year, 13 to 12.

Two of the midwestern unbeaten brigade, Notre Dame and Purdue, will have their perfect records endangered Saturday. Rockne's team plays Northwestern at Evanston, and a let down after the Southern California game may prove fatal to the Ramblers. Indiana, which beat Northwestern 19-14 last week, bars Purdue's path to an undefeated season. Indiana beat Purdue last season, 14 to 0.

Detroit, which has a 6-6 tie with Marquette to mar its record, will play Oregon State at Detroit Saturday. The Oregon eleven has lost four games on the far coast, but is no set-up by any manner of means.

California's claim to Pacific Coast honors depends on the outcome of the California-Stanford game at Palo Alto. Stanford has been beaten by Southern California, 7-0, and

First Trial Starts in Marion, N. C., Riots

While a grand jury at Marion, N. C., returned a true bill charging eight sheriffs deputies with second degree murder in the killing of six textile workers early in October, and another indictment charging 37 union men with rioting, five organizers of the United Textile Workers went to trial for "rebellion and insurrection." Above is a view of the court room as a jury finally was selected from 35 veniremen examined. The photo below shows how National Guardsmen armed with rifles held back the unruly crowd which surrounded the courthouse.

Santa Clara, 13-7, but is considered a real menace to the Golden Bears' title aspirations.

In the southwest, Texas Christian, with a record of 208 points to its opponents' 19, will face a Tartar in Baylor at Waco. Baylor won last season, 7-6.

Fordham, unbeaten but tied by Davis & Elkins and West Virginia, will face its stiffest test of the season against Bucknell at New York.

The remainder of the unbeaten teams have comparatively easy games this week. Seven of the select group will remain idle waiting for the traditional Thanksgiving Day games.

Pittsburgh will rest for its Turkey Day game with Penn State at Pittsburgh. Tennessee and Tulane will swing into action again a week from today against Kentucky and Louisiana State, respectively. Oddly enough, these opponents held Tennessee and Tulane to scoreless ties last season.

Big Six Title May Be Decided Saturday

Manhattan, Kas., Nov. 21—(AP)—A Big Six football title may be decided here Saturday when Nebraska plays the Kansas Aggies, but because the Aggies were a dark horse championship candidate the title game will be far outclassed in popularity by another game a hundred miles away.

Scheduling of the traditional Kansas-Missouri game at Lawrence on the same day will drastically curtail the Aggie-Nebraska attendance and authorities do not expect to fill the Manhattan Stadium, which will seat 16,500. More than 20,000 are expected at Lawrence. Little expectation of a title game here, when fans were purchasing tickets early in the season caused many to buy Kansas-Missouri tickets in preference to those of the Aggie-Nebraska tilt.

Mandell Favorite In Tonight's Bout

Milwaukee, Nov. 21—(AP)—A top-heavy favorite and with nothing to lose, Sammy Mandell, work lightweight champion, tonight will meet Joe Zarrella of Milwaukee in a non-title bout.

Doped to win easily, Mandell nevertheless let it be known today that he had not relaxed his training in expectation of any setup and aimed to be on guard against the right crosses which constitute the Milwaukee boy's chief claim to boxing fame.

The fight is go eight rounds. The weight has been set at 138. Three rounds above the lightweight championship figure.

Camel has the quality that smokers depend upon

It is all right to experiment but a pity to spend too much time experimenting when you might be enjoying the fragrant pleasure of smoking Camels.

It has been the experience of many smokers, after trying other brands, that Camels give constant and unfailing pleasure. Their mildness, due to choice tobaccos and expert blending, makes it possible to smoke them liberally without any tiring of the taste. This quality, which smokers have learned to depend upon, will be maintained, because Camels are made for those who know and appreciate the real pleasure of smoking.

She Walked Out on Mrs. Astor's Show

Members of New York society went to Mrs. Vincent Astor's fashion charity show expecting to see the Princess Estelle de Broglie of Paris as the leading member of the show. But the princess didn't show up. Sponsors of the affair said the princess walked out because she didn't get enough attention. But the princess says she had such a badly infected tooth.

Victims in Buffalo's $400,000 Robbery

Mrs. Ray Van Clief, the heaviest loser of 12 society people robbed by seven masked bandits at a dinner party in a fashionable Buffalo, N. Y. suburb, is shown above at the right. The dinner was in honor of Courtland Van Clief, lower left, and his fiancée, Eleanor Cameron, of Waco, Texas, upper left. Mrs. Van Clief was forced to surrender three strings of matched pearls valued at $250,000. Miss Cameron lost her engagement ring. A reward of $35,000 has been offered for the capture of the gunman alive, with $70,000 to be paid if they are killed.

Leads in Society—and Beauty, Too

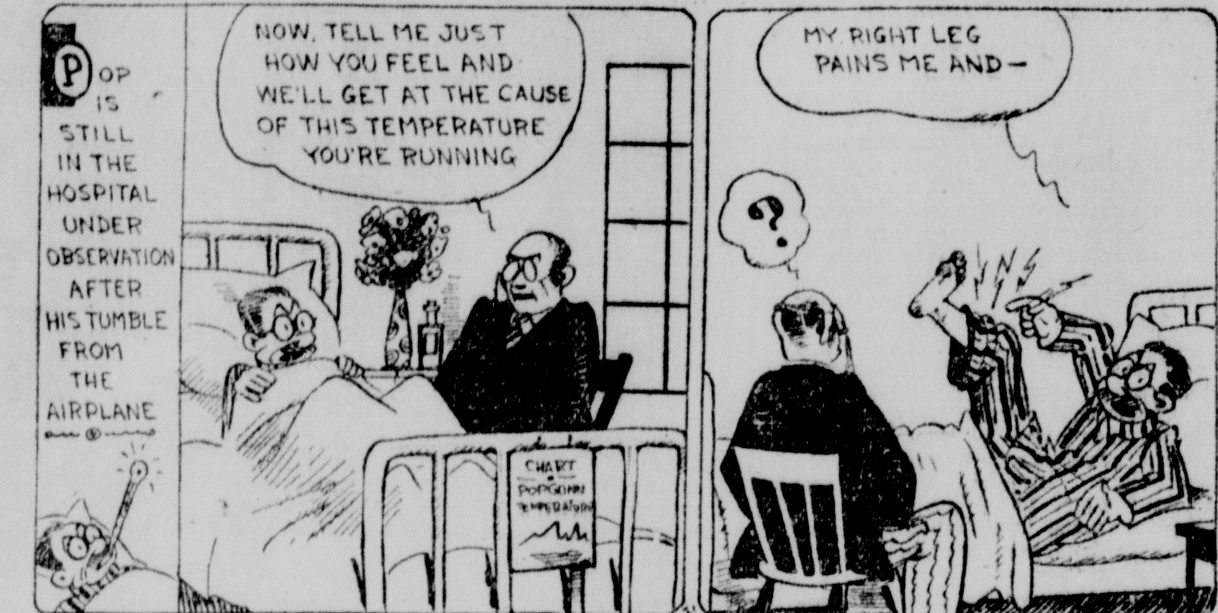

One of the beautiful things about society life in London is Miss Rosemary Hope Vere, pictured here in her latest portrait. Among the most prominent of social leaders in the British capital, she also is one of its most noted beauties.

SUFFERED SINCE CHILDHOOD; FREED BY NEW KONJOLA

Found No Relief Until He Discovered New Medicine—Eager to Praise this Remedy.

MR. F. R. SWIBOLD.

"For years I suffered from constipation," said Mr. F. R. Swibold, 803 West Gilt street, Peoria, Ill. "Then stomach trouble developed. Following every meal gas and bloating caused pain, and my stomach was so sore that I could not stand the pressure of my clothing against it. My condition interfered with my work, and I was miserable all over as the result of these two ailments."

"Through the papers I learned of Konjola and decided to give it a trial. A few weeks and my stomach trouble vanished entirely. My bowels are perfectly normal—a totally new experience for me. I feel like a new man in every way, and am enjoying life as I never have. I'll tell the world that there is no medicine like Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all local druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

INDICTMENT OF REPRESENTATIVE CAUSES FURE

Illinois Member Of Congress Is Third
To Face Charge

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—District Attorney Rover disclosed late Wednesday that he had a receipt signed by Representative Denison for the liquor-laden trunk on which an indictment of the Marion, Illinois, representative on liquor charges was based.

Denison has disclaimed ownership of the trunk. The receipt, signed "J. H. Layne per E. E. Denison," was presented to the grand jury before it returned its indictment naming the Representative and John Layne, several years ago a secretary to the Illinois Representative.

Layne has denied any connection with the case, saying he can prove he was in Washington last January when Denison and Charles Lane, his nephew from St. Louis, made the trip to Panama after which the trunk was supposed to have been shipped here.

The Illinois Representative has retained counsel by wire from Marion, Illinois. He has also notified the District Attorney he will return here early next week and will ask for an early trial.

Washington, (AP)—The indictment of a member of the House—one who voted for the Eighteenth amendment, the Volstead act and the Jones law, on charge of possession of intoxicating liquor heightened and intensified today the current furor over prohibition enforcement conditions in the nation's Capital.

The accused legislator, Edward E. Denison of Marion, Ill., vigorously denied the charges from his home and asserted that they were based upon the delivery, by mistake, of a trunk containing intoxicants to his office here last January.

The indictment was returned yesterday by the grand jury which heard Senator Brookhart denounce the celebrated "Wall Street booze party" for members of the Senate, in the course of a general inquiry into liquor conditions here.

It followed a report by prohibition agents, submitted November 8, that they had found a trunk containing whiskey and gin in Denison's office at the House Office Building last January 19, after the Representative had returned from a Christmas visit to Panama. Shipping tags on the trunk bore the name of John Layne, a former secretary to Mr. Denison, who also denied any connection with the case.

Two other members of the House have been at odds with prohibition enforcement officers within the last year. Representative Michaelson also of Illinois, was indicted for smuggling liquor into Florida, and later acquitted. His brother-in-law, however, entered a plea of guilty to charges of prohibition law violations and was fined $1000. Representative Morgan of Ohio, was said by New York Customs officers to have brought liquor into the country from Panama, but his denial and explanation were accepted by the Treasury Department.

MARINE TO BARON
Glasgow—Sergeant Wulque Agnew served as a marine with his buddies but no one can call him "high-hat" because he was a Scottish baron. In fact, no one knew it until he had obtained a discharge from the base at Shanghai to go home and assume his title. He is now known as "Sgt. Fulque." Instead of "Sergeant Agnew."

"Dundee speaking. Put Lieutenant Strawn on the wire, please," he panted.

"Hello, boy! What's up? Have you caught the murderer?" the well-known voice of his chief came bawlingly to the excited new detective.

"Listen, chief! I've got to see you right away. Wait for me there won't you? Something big's broken! Something that puts an entirely new high on the wholeterrible business!"

Ten minutes later, a breathless Lieutenant Strawn catapulted into the millinery department of a big store. I remember that the papers commented on the fact that she had been extremely reticent about her past; in fact, none of her business associates knew the slightest thing about her, except that she was an excellent designer and apparently had no friends outside the shop.

"How was she murdered?" Strawn interrupted impatiently. "Strangled, I suppose—just to make it more hair-raising!"

"No," Dundee retorted reluctantly, but with a grin at his own expense. "Her head was bashed in with a heavy desk lamp, but there were no fingerprints on it—just blood and a few hairs. And there were no fingerprints on anything except the dead woman's, although the murderer had ransacked her one room and kitchen apartment. She had the rear hall of the second floor in one of those old brownstone fronts, converted into light housekeeping apartments. The police found fresh ashes in the grate, indicating that the murderer had burned all of Sally Graves' papers for none were found—not even a letter or an advertising circular."

"Any clues as to the murderer?"

"Remember I told you I was going to watch for the postman and get the regular first-of-the-month letter from S?" Dundee tried to get control of himself. "Well, it didn't come, but the postman was able to tell me who S is—or was! Sally Graves! Sally Graves—of New York City!"

"Graves?" Dundee repeated. "Sally Graves? That name sounds familiar—"

"It's a common sort of name," the postman told him mildly. "And don't you worry. That letter'll come along on the next delivery more or less likely."

"No!" Dundee almost shouted. "No, it will never come!"

And pausing only to snatch the bundle of Rhodes House mail from the astonished postman's hand, Dundee plunged up the steps

TWENTY-ONE U. I. STUDENTS ARE DROPPED TUES.

Disciplinary Actions Assumed Drastic Proportions

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP)—Disciplinary action assumed drastic proportions on the University of Illinois campus today.

The aftermath to the liquor raid on the Gamma Eta Gamma house brought expulsion to eight members of the fraternity and to another involved.

The fraternity itself was ordered to show cause why it should not be disbanded.

W. J. Sherman of Crown Point, Ind., who was fined $500 and costs after pleading guilty to possession of the 12 gallons of liquor confiscated in the raid Sunday, was one of those expelled. Other fraternity members to meet the same fate from the Student Council of administration were:
A. J. Withers, Hibbing, Minn.; E. E.
Langbons, Marion, Ill.; A. Butwell, Cicero, Ill.; R. R. Hughes, Burlington, Ia.; J. P. McMillan, Carthage, Ill.; Charles Binkert, Quincy, Ill.;

and Robert J. Hartley, Taylor, Ill.
Robert Webb, a senior, was expelled for buying and transporting the liquor found by Champaign police.
Saturday night in the possession of
B. W. Hoare, sophomore, from Gol-conda, Ill., whose revelations led to the raid on the Gamma Eta Gamma house.
No disciplinary action was taken against Hoare. Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean of Men, said he had learned that Hoare had tried to shield Webb and two high school youths with Hoare arrested.
Infractions of other university rules brought the day's total of 21 students either expelled or dismissed.
Eight students were dismissed until January 6 for violating the no-car ruling to drive to the Illinois-Northwestern football game at Evanston.
Three others were dismissed indefinitely for repeated violations of the same ruling.
Two other students, one a co-ed, were dismissed until January 6 for drinking. Their names were not disclosed. They were not involved in the Gamma Eta Gamma raid.
